Milliken Has Package To Cut Rising Crime

By MALCOLM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Acknowledging that Michigan has "suffered a major setback" in fighting crime, Gov. William Milliken has renewed his call for an agency to fight organized crime and public corruption. In a special message to the state legislature on Thursday, Milliken spelled out a lengthy list of proposed action to combat major crime—which, he said, jumped 20.2 per cent in the state last year.

Michigan thus had a full part of the greatest increase in crime nationally since the FBI began gathering data 45 years ago.

Among his recommendations were a commission on investigations, stricter sentences for repeaters and those who use guns in committing crimes, appointment of Supreme Court and Court of Appeals judges, compensation of victims of crime and tightening handgun laws.

Except for beefing up the parole board, Milliken made only minor suggestions in the controversial area of early release for offenders.

He did call for quick legislation to make sure "dangerous felons" are not freed under a recent court ruling on the new mental health code.

"The cold fact is that for the moment we have lost our initiative," Milliken said. "After years of struggle, and expenditures that tax our resources, we have failed to stem the tide of crime."

And his message, touching on the "causes of crime"—unemployment and other handicaps of the disadvantaged—reflected the frustration of attempting to solve an insoluble problem.

"We must look increasingly to ourselves and to the other traditional institutions of society" to provide a climate in which crime won't flourish, Milliken said—not just the police, courts and prisons.

The governor said he was again proposing, as he did after a 1969 study, a commission on investigations to probe organized crime and uproot public officials who help the criminals. As proposed, the commission would have broad authority and statewide jurisdiction, both helping and surpassing local law enforcement organizations. It could begin investigations, conduct hearings and issue reports, develop a statewide in-

Wounded Vietnam Vet Dies

Larry G. Pulley, 26, a paralyzed veteran of the Vietnam war, died Wednesday evening at Veterans Administration hospital, Ann Arbor, after being seriously ill for six weeks.

Mr. Pulley, who lived at 333 Rainbow drive, St. Joseph, was wounded in 1967 by mortar fire which left him paralyzed from the waist down. He received the Purple Heart and was a member of Disabled Veterans of Vietnam and Paralyzed Veterans of America.

Mr. Pulley was born May 7, 1948, in Berrien Springs. He attended Benton Harbor high school.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Frances Pulley, Benton Harbor; two brothers, Jesse, Benton Harbor; Kenneth, Pe-

Funeral services will be held Monday, 11 a.m., at DeFlorin funeral home with burial in Crystal Springs cemetery. Friends may call after 6 p.m. Saturday at the funeral home.

Study Hits White-Collar Crime In U.S.

By RICHARD H. PYLE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A private, as-yet-unpublished study says the federal government has refused to recognize the severity of white-collar crime in the United States despite massive spending for research on crime trends.

This failure has resulted in "a paucity of information" and "distortion of the true nature of crime in America," says the report by Public Citizen, a group connected with consumer advocate Ralph Nader.

Citing previous estimates that white-collar crime may cost the American economy upwards of $40 billion a year, the report concludes, among other findings, that:

"The lack of information and understanding of white-collar crime constitutes a great obstacle to its eventual prosecution and prevention."

"Even though the federal government ... spent over $70 million in 1973 for crime research and statistics, there has yet to appear an official analysis of the corporate crimes, consumer frauds and official corruption that are devastating this country's economy and bringing its political institutions to the brink of ruin."

None of the government agencies which regularly tabulate crime statistics, such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Census Bureau and others, keep track of white-collar crime on a nationwide basis. Justice Department officials would not comment on the report by Public Citizen.

However, the Justice Department is organizing a new task force to deal with white-collar crime, which a senior department official acknowledged, based on information from the FBI and U.S. attorneys, is increasing "at a staggering rate."

The Public Citizen report was based on a study of the first six months of 1974, relying on an admittedly "small and far from representative sampling" of white collar crime.

Clark: A Good Quarter

BUCHANAN — Clark Equipment company today announced increases in both sales and earnings for the first quarter of 1975, compared to the same period a year ago.

Net income climbed to $12.8 million, or 94 cents a share, an increase of 17 percent from $10.9 million, or 80 cents per share, in the first quarter of 1974. Sales totaled $353.5 million, an improvement of more than 10 percent over sales of $319.6 million for the first period last year.

"Some of the earnings improvement was due to the absence of federal price controls, which had forced pressure on profit margins during the first quarter of 1974," said Bert E. Phillips, Clark president and chief executive officer.

He added that if sales of the trailer division, which is being phased out, were excluded from first quarter totals for both 1975 and 1974, the sales increase would be 17 percent.

The company ended truck trailer production at its Michigan City, Ind., plant in February, 1975, and is now disposing of the division's inventories. European trailer production continues as Clark seeks a buyer for the business, which has been profitable, Phillips said.

"Our total order backlog stood at $683 million at the end of March, 1975, so we believe we can sustain a satisfactory level of operation through the second quarter," Phillips said. The backlog was $23 million higher

Hartford Robbery Suspects Captured

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — Two men were arrested early today in connection with the armed robbery of a Hartford gas station yesterday, according to state police at the Paw Paw post.

Police said arrested on charges of armed robbery and auto theft were Robert E. Judd, 21, Decatur, and Carman Capaglio, believed to be a New York state resident and in his 20's.

Officers said the arrests were made about 3 a.m. today at a trailer home south of Decatur.

Police had been searching for two men who took an estimated $50 to $70 from the Miami gas station at Hartford about 7:25 a.m., yesterday.

Station manager Dennis Parish said two men entered the station, tied him and took money from the cash register and his 1968 auto.

One was armed with a shotgun and one was wearing a nylon stocking over his face, Parish later told police.

Parish wiggled free and called police. State police said the auto was recovered later in the day near CR-215 in Hamilton township, southeast of Hartford.

Police said today that the gas station robbery, and the reported theft of a gun and a car from a Hamilton township home, are not believed to be related.

There was some speculation yesterday that the two might have been committed by the same person or persons.

Recall Organizers Vow They'll Continue Drive

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — Organizers of an attempt to recall Niles township Supervisor John McDonald vow they will continue to circulate recall petitions despite a threatened lawsuit by McDonald.

Township resident Mrs. E. J. (Joanna) Flock said she and other supporters would continue to circulate the petitions despite a charge by McDonald that four of the five allegations against him listed on the petitions were "malicious, vague, misleading, and untrue."

McDonald said yesterday that if petitions turned into the township board, contain the same five allegations currently being distributed by the recall group he would file a suit against the circulators, but not signers, for either, "slander or libel."

The recall drive was launched after McDonald was granted a $2,500 pay raise during the annual township meeting April 5 by township residents.

The allegations against McDonald listed on the petitions and confirmed by the supervisor as the allegations he was referring to are:

"1. Obstructed fair representation of the people by failure to notify all members of the board of meeting by the board (township board)

"2. Caused the resignation of the township assessor so as to compel the electors into giving the assessing duties to the supervisor for an increase in salary.

"3. After being refused a salary increase by a special election of the people Mr. McDonald, through gross misrepresentation, chaired the annual meeting in such a manner as to indicate to the electors present that there would be no change in the salary

Proxmire 'Clenches Jaws'

WASHINGTON — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., says he has awarded his "golden fleece of the month" prize to a research project at Kalamazoo State Hospital in Michigan to study jaw clenching.

Proxmire said Thursday that Dr. Ronald Hutchinson was given grants totaling $500,000 over seven years for the project, supported by the National Science Foundation, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Office of Naval Research.

He said Hutchinson began by studying wasps, worked his way through bee constrictors, rats and monkeys, then finally human beings.

Proxmire said that some of his conclusions were that when monkeys get mad, they clench their jaws and that drunk monkeys don't react as fast as sober monkeys.

Hutchinson also concluded that human beings clench their jaws as a sign of anger and frustration, Proxmire said.

"It's time the federal government got out of this kind of monkey business," Proxmire said. "Dr. Hutchinson has made a monkey out of the federal bureaucrats."

In Kalamazoo, however, Dr. Hutchinson said his research has resulted in "some of the most precise and accurate methods ... for the study of aggression in several animal species."

He said it was found that several types of environmental stress can provoke anger and aggression, and that certain drugs can reduce those reactions.

"As this work has progressed over the years, it has become possible to develop an objective and reliable method for the laboratory measurement of anger in normal human volunteers."

Hutchinson said his work had been reviewed by four federal agencies, as well as scientists who are acknowledged experts in the field.

By belittling the reviews of scientific funding agencies, and by public, uninformed and inept discrediting of work which is so socially necessary, he (Proxmire) causes a disservice to his constituents and to the country," Hutchinson said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. George V. Hansen, R-Idaho, was sentenced today to serve two months in federal prison on two misdemeanor campaign finance violations.

In sentencing the congressman, U.S. District Judge George Hart said, "If the people who make the laws can't obey them who can be expected to obey them."

Hart gave Hansen a one-year sentence, with two months to be served in confinement. The balance of the sentence was suspended with the congressman to be placed on probation for a period of one year upon release from confinement.

Hansen, the father of five children, said before the sentencing that, "I am very humble." He declined comment afterward.

His wife, Connie, gasped when Hart sentenced her husband.

Report Recommends Patient Screening

By PATRICK CONNOLLY
Associated Press Writer

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan hospital costs could be cut several million dollars a year if patients were better screened before they are admitted, according to an insurance commission hearing examiner.

In a report submitted Thursday to state Insurance Commissioner Daniel Demlow, the examiner also said hospitals have too many empty beds.

The examiner—Kenneth DeShetler—has been studying a Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield rate increase request.

The Blues are to blame for a great deal of the problem, DeShetler said, in his report on the Blues' bid for a $306 million rate hike request.

He did not recommend a specific figure to Demlow. But in reviewing five days of hearings, DeShetler criticized the Blues on a number of fronts.

He said the number of patient days in Michigan hospitals could be reduced 25 per cent at a savings of "a few hundred million dollars."

DeShetler asserted that unless the average hospital stay for a Blues subscriber in 1973-74 was 7.23 days and unless a patient remained 21 days there was "no effective...review" of whether the stay was necessary.

The Blues deny claims in only one of 300 hospital admissions, he said.

When the Blues deny a person's liability, he added, "the subscriber patient is punished by being required to pay for the care, even though in most nonselective cases the inappropriate admission was made by a physician."

Closer scrutiny of hospital use would be made "if the physician or hospital were required to pay instead of the innocent patient," he declared.

According to the insurance bureau staff, DeShetler said, Michigan hospitals could reduce the number of unused beds by 11.6 per cent.

The insurance bureau, the Blues and the Michigan Department of Public Health should "immediately" develop a way to eliminate excess beds, thereby saving subscribers money, he said. Demlow can take the over-bedding and unnecessarily long hospital stays into consideration when making his decision on the Blues rate request, he added.

Insurance Bureau officials say the requested rate increase would boost the cost of the Blues health plans an average of 33 per cent. The Blues claimed last February that the rate hike would mean an average increase of 23.9 per cent.

The Blues are the state's largest health insurers, covering about 5.25 million subscribers.

Demlow declined comment on the recommendation of the hearing official. He said he would make a decision by mid-May. The insurance bureau staff has recommended a rate increase not to exceed 12 per cent.

Those Who Should Know Better Ask The Best Of Two Worlds

Last week the Michigan School Boards Association released a profile on its 4,200 membership divided among 602 school districts.

Lumping the statistics into one hamper and then segregating them by age, sex and occupational background, the survey indicates that statewide the plurality in the board membership is a male in the 40 to 45-year bracket who derives his livelihood from a profession, an upper level administrative job in business or industry, owning his own business, or farming. Our average member also has two or more children in the K-12 system.

While national statistics are not available, we have a hunch its projection would follow closely the Michigan average.

This profile is not likely to be red hot liberal in its thinking process. If anything, it eschewed George McGovern three years ago and today feels kindly disposed toward Jerry Ford.

An advance news release on the National Association's convention opening Thursday at Miami Beach, however, indicates some peculiar mixing in outlook when it comes to running the public schools.

Prior to the convocation's opening, its resolutions committee already had formulated two proposals which, if adopted by the full convention, would have outsiders believe that a fox is the best guardian for a chicken hatchery.

One proposition repeats and expands greatly an idea adopted several years ago. This is federal aid to education.

Per the Association's statistics, the federal treasury is contributing an average of seven per cent to a local school budget.

The resolutions committee calls for that amount to be raised to one-third.

Companion resolutions seek an increase in general aid funds parcelled out on a need basis; raising the ante in earmarked projects such as aid to the handicapped and minorities; money assistance to districts financially pushed to meet the extra costs of desegregation; and inclusion in revenue sharing and manpower programs which for the most part bypass the schools.

Administration of this Comstock Lode, should Congress and the Administration see fit to create it, would be under a Department of Education. This would be a new cabinet level bureaucracy compounded by removing the E from HEW and other education related activities scattered in other agencies. The Agricultural Department's hot lunch program is one sample of the latter.

In the next breath the committee calls for keeping Washington out of the local bailiwicks.

The integration procedure should be decided and activated at the local level.

There should be no federal involvement in collective bargaining which might displace or disturb state or local law on the subject.

Commendable as is that stand for retaining and strengthening local control, how can adults from better than average backgrounds believe if Washington passes out the goodies that Washington would desist from saying how that money should be handled?

Simply to ask the question is to answer it.

The reason for putting forth the inconsistency is the unwillingness or inability, possibly both, to attempt what any household or business does when its budget gets out of balance.

It is trimming back on this or that expenditure which if desirable is not a bedrock essential.

School boards still echo the virtues of self reliance.

The Miami resolutions, certainly the financial proposals, would consign that value to the museum.

MORE JOBS NEEDED, NOT APARTMENTS

I wish to complement the newspaper on its well-reasoned editorial position on the proposed Benton Harbor 200 unit apartment complex.

It would seem abundantly clear that what is needed, as you so correctly point out, is more jobs, not more housing. If this project were ever built, which frankly seems quite unlikely unless federal funds are involved, in which case I guess about anything is possible, it will serve to do two things. Firstly, it is likely that the development would attract substantial numbers of individuals who are present residents of the city. This will only serve to make available yet more housing in the older parts of the city, thereby encouraging even more welfare recipients to move into Benton Harbor. Secondly, it will completely disrupt the commercial and light industrial plan for this area, dealing what I feel will be a near fatal blow to the redevelopment of the city.

As you know, the whole idea behind the old fruit market —

Riverview Drive clearing, land-fill and redevelopment project was that of starting west at the river with a commercial-light industrial complex and moving eastward to eventually join up with the older business sections of the community.

Although progress has been slow, it has not been completely lacking. The city can point to the following which has occurred during the past seven years: An ongoing program of additions and substantial remodeling to the Travel Inn Motel, the office building complex at 777 Riverview Drive, the post office, Babes, Ned Gates — Chevrolet, complete rebuilding of the Pearson Construction Company offices; together with a substantial new warehouse-light — industrial building, a combined car rental agency and body shop building and the All-Phase building. Many other business establishments preceded these.

Perhaps there is a lesson to be learned from this. Every single one of these businesses were developed by local people (although Ned Gates was not originally a local resident the Chevrolet agency which he purchased was clearly a Benton Harbor business).

Sometimes I think we are all too interested in that one grandiose "put-of-towner's" promotional development. History has demonstrated that this is an illusive concept to pursue.

There are a number of wholesalers, warehousemen, light industries and other commercial concerns presently located in Benton Harbor who are in need of new facilities. If these concerns elect to relocate elsewhere it would be tragic to think that it resulted from our own inaction.

The city has many employees. Why not take the very best qualified of these and put them to work on encouraging the local people. With the Revenue Bond Act and the Industrial Tax Exemption Act, the legislature has given them tools with which to work.

Comment will perhaps be made that since I do not presently reside in the city I have no right to speak. In response to this I would like to point out that for over half my life I lived in Benton Harbor. My father was a resident of the city for over 60 years, 40 of which he spent in the retail fuel business. When he sold his business in the later years of his life he elected to reinvest the proceeds in the city where he had lived and where his children were raised. I therefore feel that I have every right to speak.

Coast guards in St. Joseph made a 16-mile trip on the lake last night, looking for a "boat in distress." About nine o'clock Henry George, one of the coast guards, saw a light revolving on the lake every 30 seconds. Others observed it, too. So Captain Samuel J. Carlson and three of his men, Frederick H. Cox, Michael J. Muszinski and Terrance Arroy, went to the rescue of the "boat." After speeding 16 miles, they discovered they were seeing the lighthouse at Wind Point, just out of Racine, Wis., 85 miles across the lake. They also saw the lights at Milwaukee and South Haven clearly. "You could see each individual light, not just reflections," Captain Carlson said today. "It was the first time in all my years on the lake that I ever saw anything like it." The night was unusually clear and the atmospheric conditions apparently just right for the rare phenomenon.

Breaking Law To Uphold It

WASHINGTON — A half century ago a committee of distinguished jurists issued a "Report Upon the Illegal Practices of the U.S. Justice Department," which included a thumping rebuke of the practice of hiring agent provocateurs. Unfortunately, it received scant attention. Had proper limitations been applied then to America's spy establishment, throwing bombs at the public might not be a method the U.S. government uses to protect the public today.

Of all the snoop shenanigans to have surfaced in past months none causes greater dismay than the FBI policy of assigning agents to provoke public disorder and break the law. It is a matter of no great moment if a spy is planted within a suspect organization, as the Presidential Commission on Campus Unrest has pointed out, but the morality of the plant "becomes deeply troubling when he begins hurling rocks."

Actually, even rock hurling alone might raise little public anger. But some FBI agents, from the $20,000 a year men to others merely hired off the streets, have in recent times plotted to firebomb college military units, run guns for violence-prone political organizations, and blow up oil wells in the South. Says one ex-FBI troubleshooter: "I have no proof, but I've heard from time to time that the bureau has even considered killing certain people in order to provoke certain other people. From my experience with them, I don't doubt it."

The latter's experience with the FBI is apparently extensive. He declines identification, "for my own protection," but says he was hired by the FBI to infiltrate antiwar groups, the idea being to bring about their legal vulnerability.

"At first it was a kick. I'm a Vietnam veteran myself and at first I agreed with the bureau that we had to stop the dissent anyway we could," he said. Then as I got deeper into the group, I found myself leading the goddamn cause. I mean, I got all wrapped up in it. The other guys would sit around discussing sit-ins or marches or something, and I'd stand up boiling about taking over buildings and bombing the links. I quit when I realized it was forcing, not observing, the action."

The ex-agent's confession of excessive zeal is not surprising to civil rights who've closely observed the provocateur activity. Frank Donner, an American Civil Liberties Union attorney and authority on domestic spies, says the overriding evil of infiltration operations is that they "can't just hang their clothes on the hickory limb and not go near the water."

Once inside an organization the spy must take an active part if only to protect his cover. His job and salary depend on his ability to become part of the militancy. Or as the antiwar spy above observes: "Everybody who joins the rifle team shoots."

Even more disturbing than the lone agent who provokes an organization is the FBI practice of hiring a group of provocateurs to staff an invented organization. Donner calls it "manufactured heresy." He says bureau agents organized a group, such as the Red Star Cadre which flourished for awhile in Florida, then set about to break the law in order to uphold the law. Donner adds: "The purpose is harassment. They will use the invented group to muscle down a legitimate group. Quite a bit of tax money is spent everyday for this purpose."

Election Rules Worrying Pols

WASHINGTON — Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp prepared a statement two weeks ago in which he announced that he would be a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Then he revealed his plans to Sonny Dogole, a veteran observer of Democratic politics who for two decades was a major financial supporter of Sen. Hubert Humphrey. Dogole's response was to ask one question: "Do you understand the new campaign finance rules?"

Shapp conceded that he did not. Dogole patiently explained the complex provisions limiting the amounts that can be contributed by the candidate or his family and by any individual donors and detailing what must be disclosed in expenditures.

Stunned, the governor hastily dropped the idea of running for President, probably permanently.

Shapp hadn't really been serious about conducting a nationwide campaign. His plan was merely to run as a favorite son in the May Pennsylvania primary, in hopes of controlling his state's huge delegation and thus placing himself in the position to maneuver for the Vice Presidential nomination.

But favorite sons must comply with the new law just as scrupulously as more active candidates. In addition, there are several states, including Wisconsin and California, which require that all possible candidates be listed on the ballot, whether they like it or not. The only way a favorite son could get off the ballot would be to sign a statement under oath that he is not a Presidential candidate.

Such a statement, of course, would create a certain credibility problem back home and possibly invalidate his candidacy there too.

To avoid the embarrassment of losing horribly in the must-run state primaries, Shapp would have had to raise money and campaign outside of Pennsylvania, which greatly compounded his financing approach.

Shapp's abrupt retreat from the Presidential game is the latest manifestation of the political trauma that has been created by the new rules. The difference between the 1972 and 1976 rules is greater than any change between two previous Presidential campaigns in modern history. Experienced politicians can't rely on what they learned in 1972. They must adapt to doing things a new way.

The financing limitations are not the only area of reform, although that is perhaps the biggest headache. Most of the states are currently tinkering with their systems for selecting delegates to meet the new standards for participation, and the scope of the changes will not be clear until July 1, which is the deadline for compliance.

For instance, a new requirement for proportional representation means that all candidates for convention delegate must identify whom they are supporting when they run. This provision has prompted several states to consider moving their primaries to later dates, so the politicians will have a clearer idea of which candidate they can win with.

Ohio has already set its primary back from May to June. Florida, which is currently the second primary, is debating moving its primary back to late spring.

The primary shuffle has prompted Alabama Gov. George Wallace to charge that it's all a plot to hurt him by shifting the primaries in which he is likely to do well toward the end of the campaign where they will be less useful for political momentum.

Wallace is taking too much credit, however. The Democratic pols are worrying about their own survival first and Wallace only second.

IRS May Have To Field Own Pro Football Team

For most people, the Internal Revenue Service is an organization of faceless bureaucrats whose business is to collect taxes, monitor individual and corporate returns and, this year, make sure taxpayers receive their rebates. But for those unable or unwilling to pay their taxes, IRS has the power to seize bank accounts and salaries and, in the case of property, to hold a public auction to raise money to cover the unpaid taxes.

In the last fiscal year, tax collectors made more than 20,000 seizures, most of which involved attaching wages and checking and savings accounts. The assets of a number of businesses were sold and thousands of individuals lost their stocks and bonds, private pensions, homes and other possessions.

All these actions have become routine for IRS's Collection and Taxpayer Service Division. What is anything but routine is the seizure of the contracts of 59 football players from the World Football League's now-defunct Birmingham Americans. IRS seized the contracts because the club had failed to pay $236,000 in Social Security and withholding taxes.

Since March 11, interested parties have been submitting sealed bids to IRS for the contracts. The most likely bidders are the players or their lawyers, or clubs in the World, National, or Canadian Football Leagues. Among the contracts offered for sale are those of quarterback George Mira, running back Charlie Haraway and linemen Jethro Pugh and Pat Toomay. The bids are to be opened on Friday, April 18.

Those eager to buy the contracts should be aware that there is a "caveat emptor" — "let the buyer beware" — sign on them. Some players are complaining that the obligations spelled out in their contracts have been breached and that the contracts are therefore worthless. IRS is offering no guarantees that they have not been breached. According to Washington Post sports columnist Dave Brady, IRS employees have been joking that this might discourage bidders and that the government would have to field its own team to collect the taxes. Collection and Taxpayer Division chief William E. Self even suggested that the IRS team be called "The Revenueers."

Lake Michigan is improving in quality, and William D. Marks, chief of the Water Development Services of the state Department of Natural Resources, said he is optimistic it will continue that way.

Marks reported to 87 members of the Grand Mere association Thursday night on "The State of the Lake" in a slide presentation punctuated with background information. The meeting was at First National Bank of Southwestern Michigan Lakeshore branch.

The presentation covered lake levels, shore protection devices, wetlands, land use and water quality.

With the main rivers in Michigan that empty into Lake Michigan becoming cleaner, the effect is noticeable, Marks said.

Bluff erosion devices ranged from plastic bags filled with sand to concrete structures. Costs of various shore protection facilities range from $20 per foot to $300. One of the more unusual was the idea to cover a section of exposed beach with concrete rings to trap sand.

Marks said he was more concerned about encroachments by real estate developers than by sand mining companies. He said sand mining companies own only about five per cent of the dunes along Lake Michigan.

Atty. John Collins, president of the Grand Mere association, said the organization's goals are: public acquisition and preservation of the Grand Mere area; and increased awareness of sound ecological principles.

Collins said the state has agreed not to permit vehicles or camping in the new Grand Mere state park in Lincoln township. He added the state has said it will construct trails, viewing platforms and a nature interpretation center.

Grand Mere is a unit of Warren Dunes state park.

Masters-Johnson Lecture Tickets Will Be Available Tuesday At Door

Tickets will be available at St. Joseph high school auditorium Tuesday for the appearance of Dr. William H. Masters, M.D., and Mrs. Virginia Johnson, Ph.D., who will present a two-part program on sex and sexuality.

The session from 4 to 5:30 p.m. will cover their sex research findings and treatment concepts. The evening portion at 7:30 will be answering of questions submitted at the first session.

Tickets are $5 and each ticket provides admission for both sessions. Tickets are on sale through Monday at Muir's Drugs, Fairplain Plaza; Gillespie's Drug store, St. Joseph; Lakeshore Pharmacy and Berrien County Council of Churches office. The box office will be open at the auditorium at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Sponsors of the program are Berrien County Medical society, Berrien Council of Churches, Berrien County Chapter of Michigan Society of Mental Health, and Southwestern Michigan District

Nurses association.

Dr. Masters and his wife, Mrs. Johnson, have published their third book, "The Pleasure Bond," which is selling big and has been critically reviewed as a "non-technical" book to "clear their name as sex mechanics."

They began sex research more than 20 years ago and published their first book, "Human Sexual Response" in 1966. Their research was intended to supply physicians and behavioral scientists with factual information for objective and realistic treatment of sex problems.

Their second book, "Human Sexual Inadequacy," was published in 1970.

"The Pleasure Bond" states in layman's terms that sex is a normal function and that enduring relationship are outgrowth. Critics have said there is little else in respected literature today that speaks so optimistically of the institution of marriage.

Mini-Mall Building OK'd By Stevensville Council

Stevensville village council last night approved plans for a 36 by 56-foot building to be erected in Grams mini-mall on Red Arrow highway.

Action came after the council was told that the building would be used for either office or retail business space.

According to the plans, the building is to be located on the southeast corner of Red Arrow highway and Ridge road. It will face Ridge.

No cost estimate for the structure was given. The mini-mall development is owned by Joel Grams.

In other areas, the council instructed Police Chief Richard Beck and Building Inspector Fred Albrecht to meet with business owners of the Village Square shopping center regarding a request for a directory sign.

The sign would be located in front of the hardware store on John Beers road.

According to village officials, the center already has two signs. Beck said the sign might be a hazard because of its closeness to the road.

The council agreed to use village employees and equipment to fill holes in the parking lot behind Royal apartments, Red Arrow highway, for $20 per hour plus costs of materials.

The council denied a request by Ronald Schultz, Lincoln township parks board chairman, that the village sell gasoline from its tanks to the board for use in a riding lawnmower.

Denial came after Clerk Bernice Schoenfelder said the village would lose its tax exemption if it sold gasoline.

Woman, 63 Injured In Attack

DOWAGIAC — A 63-year-old Dowagiac woman was injured when she was attacked and robbed by an unknown assailant last night while walking on Green street, according to Dowagiac police. Mrs. Esibella Gorman of 122 East Railroad street, was listed in good condition this morning at Lee Memorial hospital here. Police said Mrs. Gorman was struck on the head with a wooden club around 10:17 p.m. as she was walking on the sidewalk in front of 301 Green street. Her purse containing $3 in cash and between $48 and $50 in food stamps was stolen, police said. Mrs. Gorman told police her assailant was black and in his late teens or early 20's. Police said Mrs. Gorman received a fractured wrist and 10 stitches were required to close her head injury. The robbery occurred about a mile from Mrs. Gorman's home, police said.

BH Police Auction Due April 25

The Benton Harbor police department announced barbells, a baby basket, a cash register, 30 bicycles and 14 televisions (12 black and white) along with other items will be sold at a public auction Friday, April 25, at 1 p.m. The auction of unclaimed lost, stolen or confiscated items will be held at the Benton Harbor fruit market, Territorial road. Lt. Jack Weatherly said the items will be sold on a cash basis and the police department will not be responsible for goods after they are sold. Weatherly said merchandise cannot be returned.

Benton Harbor High Announces 2 Top Students

Cindy Morris is valedictorian of the Benton Harbor high school class of 1975 and Ann Dubinsky is salutatorian. Principal Wallace Dunn announced.

Miss Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Morris, 942 Sierra drive, Benton township, compiled a 4.432 average during four years of high school.

Miss Dubinsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dubinsky, 1249 Miami road, Fairplain, holds a grade point average of 4.300.

Both averages are higher than the traditional 4.0 maximum because Miss Morris and Miss Dubinsky took courses for which additional points are awarded.

Miss Morris last month was awarded a $4,000 scholarship by Whirlpool's St. Joseph division. She plans to attend Michigan State university and major in chemical engineering. Miss Morris is a member of the National Honor society, vice president of Mu Alpha Theta Math club and is employed as a lab technician at the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph waste water treatment plant.

Miss Dubinsky is the editor of the BHHS yearbook, a member of

Lifelong Dream Comes True For New 'Y' Chief

Jerry Orlaske, a YMCA member for 25 years, was elected president of the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph YMCA Thursday.

Township Meeting Rescheduled

LAWRENCE — A special meeting of the Lawrence township board to review the job requirements of newly appointed building inspector Duane Allen set for last night was postponed for lack of a quorum.

Township officials have rescheduled the special meeting for April 24 at 8 p.m. in the townhall at which time board members are also expected to open bids for a new three-quarter ton truck for township use. Election as president filled a long-standing ambition for Orlaske who joined the Twin City YMCA when he was 9 years old and has been continuously involved in its activities with the exception of three years of military service.

Orlaske succeeds Dr. Harzel Taylor as president.

Other officers elected at the YMCA's annual meeting were Jake Paschall, vice president; J. Howard Edwards, secretary; Roland Beckmann, treasurer; and directors James Blair, Frank Sink, Stephen Upton and Edwards (three-year terms), and Ken Hestbeck, Ann Keesh and Del Sabia (one-year).

Orlaske is employed by John G. Verington Firestone stores in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph. He has been a vice president of the YMCA three years and is in his sixth year on the board of directors. He is a past winner of

Watervliet Trailer Park Approved

WATERVLLET — The state health department has given its approval to a proposed 50-unit overnight travel trailer park here, according to park developers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kwiatkowski of Watervliet. The Kwiatkowskis said the park should be open for year-round use by mid-May. It will be located on six acres of land the family owns adjacent drive-in restaurant north of Watervliet on M-140. Richard Kwiatkowski estimated overall development costs at $10,000. The park is to be named Paw Paw River Campgrounds, he said. Earlier this year, the Watervliet township planning commission gave its approval to development plans submitted by the Kwiatkowski family. Kwiatkowski said he has been planning the overnight trailer park for three years.

Niles Is Close To Viaduct Victory

NILES — A nine-year battle waged by Niles city officials to replace the city's Fifth street railroad viaduct with a grade level crossing is a step closer to being won.

Mrs. Donna Fout, Niles city clerk, said the chief hearing examiner for the Michigan Public Service commission has recommended to the MPSC that the 1890 bridge be torn down.

Alfred A. Sullivan, chief hearing examiner, has further recommended that the north embankment, leading to the viaduct, be removed and the Penn Central railroad's locomotive service area also be relocated.

Three auxiliary Penn Central tracks below the viaduct would be removed under Sullivan's recommendation, leaving two main tracks and one auxiliary line to be guarded by warning lights and gates.

Sullivan said his recommendation calls for the cost of construction of the grade level crossing be paid by the state highway department.

Factors leading to the recommendation, Sullivan said, included the state highway department's future plans to relocate M-51 (Fifth street within the Niles city limits) in the late 1970's, and the comparative costs of building a new viaduct or a grade crossing.

Once the highway is relocated, Fifth street will be a city street and traffic reduced, Sullivan said.

"We're talking about a new viaduct that could cost as much as $2 million, compared to a grade level crossing that will cost at the most a few hundred thousand dollars," Sullivan said.

If Sullivan's recommendation is approved by the full commission the highway department would have one year to complete the job after an order is issued, he said.

Sullivan said parties involved in the case would have 20 days to respond to his recommendation in writing, and then 10 additional days to respond to each other's statements.

Music Outreach For Youth

Twin Cities Symphony

Twin Cities Symphony orchestra's annual spring outreach to young people is scheduled during the week of April 22 through 29.

Each year, the orchestra presents two "in-school" concerts and one public concert specifically for young people.

The Twin Cities Symphonic Society which sponsors the orchestra, presents these concerts to area children to introduce culture to them, according to Mrs. Jerome Warren, chairman of the concerts for the society.

The concerts are educational and are designed to expose the young people to new ideas, Mrs. Warren says.

Music for each of the concerts will be provided by a grant from the Music Performance Trust Funds, of the Recording Industries, by cooperation of Local 232, American Federation of Musicians.

A concert planned for all ages and open to the public at no admission charge will be held Sunday, April 27, at 4:30 p.m. in the auditorium of St. Joseph high school.

The "in-school" concerts will be held at Benton Harbor high school gymnasium April 22 and at Andrews university April 29.

Guest conductor for all three concerts will be Dr. Donald K. Moely, head of the music department at Lake Michigan college.

Children who will attend the "in-school" concerts are prepared ahead of time and are given information about the music to be performed.

Members of the orchestra will wear concert attire so the children will be given an accurate impression of a performance by a symphony orchestra.

Highlighting all three concerts will be the performance of — Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf," one of the most ambitious pieces ever written for children. Stephen Sizer will narrate the work in which each character in the tale is assigned a corresponding instrument and melody.

The "in-school" concerts will also include "Fanfare La Peri" by Peter Dukas, which is a fanfare for brass instruments including trumpets, French horns, trombones and tuba; "Killing Me Softly," by Norman Gimbal and Charles Fox, a popular song made famous by Roberta Flack; "Trumpeters Lullaby," by LeRoy Anderson, which will feature Joan Stafford as soloist, and which is one of the most famous solos written for the trumpet by Anderson; and the famous Sousa march, "Semper Fidelis."

The public concert on Sunday, April 27, will also include "The Last Spring" by Grieg, which is written for string orchestra; and "Russian and Ludmilla Overture" by Michael Glinka, which is a vigorous and lively work.

Committee members working with Mrs. Warren for the young-people's concerts are Dennis Bowen, Wilford Harmon, Alice Baran Hatch, Philip Jenkins and Bernhardt Kuschel.

DR. DONALD K. MOELY

Dr. Donald K. Moely, who will be guest conductor for the young people's concerts sponsored by the Twin Cities Symphonic Society, has been head of the music department and director of instrumental ensembles at Lake Michigan college for the past four years.

Before coming to Lake Michigan college, he was director of bands at Winona State college, Winona, Minn.

He received his bachelor of science degree in music from the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee and while he was director of bands at Tremper high school in Kenosha, Wis., the band was selected to perform for the American School Band Directors Association convention.

Dr. Moely conducted the first high school instrumental group in the nation to accompany the nationally famous trumpet soloist, "Doc" Severinsen in the very difficult accompaniment of the Werle 1st Trumpet Concerto.

Dr. Moely says, "During that weekend, one of the highlights of my career was when 'Doc' told me that he didn't think any high school group or conductor could successfully do the job on that difficult accompaniment. But he said he was pleasantly surprised and felt at ease performing it with us."

When Dr. Moely completed his master's degree in music at Northwestern university, he was awarded a fellowship by Northwestern university to complete his doctorate degree in music education.

In addition to conducting the Symphonic Wind Ensemble, the Brass Ensemble, the Jazz Lab band, the Percussion Ensemble and Woodwind Ensemble, all of which he initiated at the college, he also teaches applied trumpet, now his major instrument of concentration. He has performed as a trumpet soloist with several musical organizations.

He has studied conducting with John Paynter of Northwestern university and with Dr. Frederick Fennell, conductor-in-residence at the University of Miami.

Dr. Moely has recently been chosen as one of the outstanding conductors to participate in a special nationally famous conducting clinic workshop at the University of Wisconsin this summer.

At the workshop, Dr. Moely will also have individual study with Dr. Fennell. Dr. Moely has also recently been named as the recipient of an Outstanding Educator of America Award for 1974-75.

Since Dr. Moely joined the faculty of Lake Michigan college, he and his staff have developed and implemented the full two-year program for a music major. Dr. Moely says, "recently we have had students who were fully transferred as junior music majors to Western Michigan university, so we are able to fully prepare our students and we are doing the job."

Dr. Moely and his wife, Eloise, and their children, Donelle and Michael, reside in Stevensville.

Pair Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. William Ralston Doty, Bowling Green, Ky., formerly of Benton Harbor, were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary at a reception held at the Holiday Inn, Bowling Green, April 12.

Doty married the former Florence Congdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Congdon, pioneer residents of Benton Harbor, April 13, 1925, in Benton Harbor.

The couple resided in Benton Harbor and Philadelphia prior to moving to Kentucky.

Doty is a retired wood pattern maker and now operates a farm.

Acorn Society Luncheon

The Acorn Society, which includes all women staff members of Benton Harbor high school, both past and present, will hold a luncheon Saturday, April 26, at 12:30 p.m. at Sweet Cherry Resort, Benton Harbor.

Any present or former Benton Harbor high school woman teacher who has not been contacted is invited.

Reservations must be secured by Saturday, April 19, and may be made by contacting Miss Mary Reed of Benton Harbor, or Mrs. Harold Atwood, Benton Harbor.

Miss Tenerelli is a graduate of Benton Harbor high school and is a student at Lake Michigan college.

Her fiancé attended Benton Harbor high school and graduated from an Andrews university auto mechanics course through Manpower Development and Training program. He is employed as a mechanic at Sawyer Truck Stop, Sawyer.

An Aug. 2 wedding is planned.

Ragtime Concert

Tickets Available

A limited number of tickets are available for "Concert In Ragtime" which will be presented Saturday, April 19, at 8 p.m. in the St. Joseph high school auditorium.

Patron tickets which assure seats in a reserved section may be secured from Mrs. John Dewane, patron chairman for the University of Michigan Alumnae club of Benton Harbor and St. Joseph. General admission tickets are in charge of Mrs. Harvey Johnson and Mrs. Frank Linn. A limited number of tickets will also be available at the door, according to the chairman, Mrs. Sheldon Lee.

Patron tickets which also include an invitation to a champagne reception after the concert to meet the artists, William Bolcom and William Albright, are $12.50 per person. Adult general admission tickets are $5 and student admission is $3.

The two pianists who will perform are members of the University of Michigan music faculty and are nationally acclaimed for their ragtime interpretations as well as their professional skills.

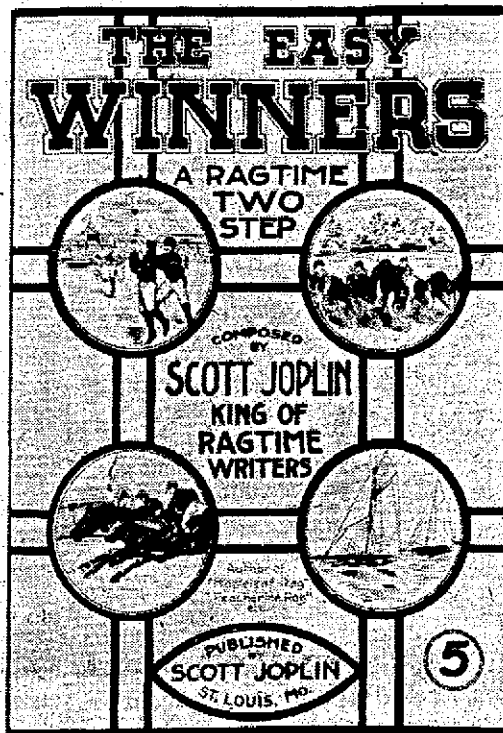

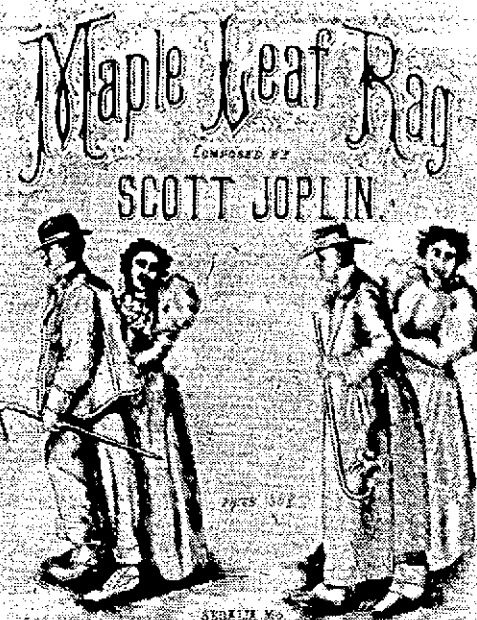

Both Albright and Bolcom have been in the forefront of the revival of interest in ragtime. Both men have written new rags and have collaborated on "Brass Knuckles."

Their compositions as well as those of ragtime greats such as Scott Joplin will be included in Saturday's program. Joplin is best known for his classic, "Maple Leaf Rag," and some of his compositions like "The Easy Winners" were highlighted in the soundtrack for the recent movie, "The Sting."

Albright and Bolcom are donating their time and talents to perform as part of the scholarship concerts programs at the University of Michigan as well as the local scholarship program.

Membership in the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph club is open to any woman with an interest in the University of Michigan even though she may not be a graduate herself.

Since it was chartered in 1922, the club has encouraged talented students and provided information to high school students interested in attending the University of Michigan. It also handles area interviews for the annual regents-alumni awards.

SPRING ANNIVERSARY EVENT!

Panel Discussion Set April 30 On Crimes Against Children

A group of "Concerned St. Joseph Residents" will sponsor a panel discussion on crimes committed against children Wednesday, April 30, at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium of Washington school, Main street, St. Joseph.

All interested persons are invited.

This informational meeting was prompted by parents and initiated by the Parent Teacher organization of the school.

The meeting is a result of two incidents in the city involving crimes against small children.

According to the PTO board, residents are increasingly concerned with the way crimes and criminals in this area are being handled, particularly about crimes committed against children.

Board members say there are many aspects of the laws that need to be explained and that they have arranged for a panel of experts to explain what happens and why, from the time of arrest to the time of sentencing. The psychological point of view will also be explored and suggestions will be given to parents on how to handle the situation should their own child be involved.

Letters have been sent to all area schools, inviting parents and residents to the meeting.

Panel members will be Fifth District Court Judge Ronald Taylor, Berrien County Prosecuting Attorney John Smietanka, Berrien County Sheriff Forrest "Nick" Jewell, Dr. Fredrick B. Bell, director of outpatient service at Riverwood Community Mental Health Center, and Paula Andradi, director of drug programs at Riverwood Mental Health Community Mental Health Center.

Mrs. Clifton Nelson, PTO president, will serve as moderator.

Judge Taylor was elected to the Fifth Judicial District of Michigan in 1974. He had previously served two terms as Prosecuting Attorney for Berrien county. In that position, he also served as director of Prosecuting Attorneys association as director, secretary and treasurer of the Prosecuting Attorneys of Michigan, as a national consultant on prosecution and courts for the National Center for Prosecuting Management, Washington, D.C., and as director of management systems project of the Prosecuting Attorneys Association of Michigan under contract to Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, Washington, D.C.

Judge Taylor began his career in public life when he was elected clerk of Benton township and served in that position for two terms.

He is a graduate of St. Joseph high school and Western Michigan university and received his Juris Doctor degree from Wayne State university.

John Smietanka has served as Berrien County Prosecuting Attorney since 1974. He joined the Prosecutor's office in 1970 and has served as civil and appellate assistant, criminal trial assistant and chief assistant.

He took a leave of absence in 1970 to study the British Judicial System at the invitation of the General Council of the Bar at London.

He received his doctor of jurisprudence degree from John Marshall Law school and was admitted to practice law in Michigan in 1969.

Forrest "Nick" Jewell is serving his second term as Sheriff of Berrien county. He joined the department as a deputy in 1955 and attained the rank of sergeant before resigning to run for Sheriff.

Earlier this year, he was graduated from the FBI's National Academy at Quantico, Va.

He is director for civil defense for Berrien county and was appointed by Gov. Milliken as one of 15 new members of the newly reconstituted Civil Defense Advisory Council. In 1973, he was named to the board of the Michigan Sheriff's association.

Paula Andradi has served as director of the Berrien County Drug Treatment program of Riverwood Community Mental Health Center since 1974. She is currently instituting the Rape Crisis Intervention Center in the community.

Miss Andradi is a graduate of Benton Harbor high school and received her psychology degree from Michigan State university.

Dr. Fredrick B. Bell is director of outpatient service at Riverwood Community Mental Health Center. He previously served as director of the St. Joseph River Valley Mental Health Center, which was the forerunner of the current facility. He also served as director of the Twin City Child Guidance Council, which preceded the St. Joseph River Valley Mental Health Center.

Dr. Bell received his doctorate degree in psychology from Purdue university. He is a member of both the American and Michigan Psychologists associations. He also serves on the board of directors for the Twin City chapter of Parents Without Partners.

District Garden Clubs To Meet

DR. WILLIAM GILLIS

District III of the Federated Garden clubs of Michigan, of which the Twin Cities Area Garden Council is a member, will hold its spring meeting with an observance of Arbor Day Friday, April 25, at the Kalamazoo Nature Center.

Featured speaker will be Dr. William T. Gillis, research fellow of the Arnold Arboretum, Harvard university, and professor of biology at Hope college.

Garden clubs belonging to the Twin Cities Area Garden Council include Blossomland, Highcliffe Terrace, Indian Hills, Shoreham, Shoreline, Watervliet, Fairplain, Four Seasons, and Green Thumb. Mrs. Robert Judd is president of the council.

The Arbor day observance is being sponsored jointly by the Kalamazoo Garden Council and the Kalamazoo Nature Center.

The morning program, to be held in the interpretive center at the nature center, is open to the general public free of charge.

Coffee will be served from 9:30 to 10 a.m., followed by the talk by Dr. Gillis, on "A Botanist and the Grocery Store." A slide program on Michigan's champion trees will be presented by Dr. Richard Pippin, Western Michigan university professor of biology and president of the Southwest Michigan Botanical club.

Winners of the seven county "Big Tree Hunt" will receive awards, and a special tree will be planted in the nature center's arboretum, honoring Mrs. Jack Dale. The afternoon program, for District III members, will begin with a noon luncheon at the nature center's Red Barn, with music provided by "The Asparagus Pickers."

Mrs. William J. Sullivan, state president, will address the members, and a slide program featuring the state and national federated project, "Operation Wildflower" will be shown. Sears environmental improvement awards for 1973-75 will be presented, and district winners of the bicentennial collage poster contest will be chosen. Members of Westwood Garden club will host the event.

Married In Colorado

NEW BUFFALO — Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Swanson are making their home at 8800 East Tennessee avenue, Denver, Colo., following their marriage in Faith United Presbyterian church, Aurora, Colo., March 29.

The Rev. Mark Moore performed the ceremony for the former Miss Patricia Ann Handley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Handley of New Buffalo, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Swanson, Neola, Ia.

The bride wore a maracaine jersey egg-shell A-line gown trimmed with pearls and featuring a train. A peau de soie petal headpiece accented with pearls held her waist length illusion lace veil and she carried yellow sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Miss Susan Handley was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaid was Miss Teresa Kurina.

Richard Kerns served as best man. Usher was Ted Underwood.

A reception was held at the Officer's club at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

The couple went to Aspen, Colo., for their wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of New Buffalo high school and Holy Cross School of Nursing, South Bend, Ind. She is a registered nurse in surgery at General Rose hospital, Denver. Her husband is a graduate of Neola, Ia., high school and the University of Iowa undergraduate and medical schools. He is a resident physician in obstetrics and gynecology at Colorado Medical Center.

COMBINATION LIVING-DINING areas more common than not in today's new homes. A separate dining room is a genuine luxury in larger or older homes, not found in the average floor plans.

If you have a family room, or an eating area in the kitchen for quick family meals, so much the better. But usually your living room dining area will serve for company meals and perhaps family dinner.

To gain visual space, let your living and dining areas flow together in the combination. Use the same floor-length draperies, for instance, or wall-to-wall carpeting over the entire area. Pick out living room color in the seats of your dining chairs.

Many smaller dining room sets are available where space is limited, in a wide variety of styles. Many can double as game or bridge tables. A long, narrow harvest table set against a wall, or a drop-leaf table, can be a fine solution, taking up minimum space when not in use.

Plan traffic areas carefully, and be sure to leave room for easy access to dining chairs! We'll gladly help you with your plans, and you'll find many happy solutions to your dining area furnishings in our displays. Stop in and look them over!

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Old Bones Better Buried

Dear Ann Landers: After 21 years of child-support payments plus a lot of love, worry and heartache, my husband found out that his daughter from his previous marriage is not his child. Linda had a blood disorder and had to take several tests. My husband went to give blood for her and then the truth came out.

His first wife (the girl's mother) was always wild. He married her because she told him she was pregnant with his child. He believed her.

Now my husband is in a state of depression. He feels like a sucker. His ego is crushed. To make matters worse, the girl is determined to find her "REAL" father!

I married this man when Linda was only three years old. Although her mother had custody I had to fit her into every weekend, every holiday and vacation. My own little girl always felt like "second best." It was a heartache for me.

Is there any way my husband can get some money back? His ex-wife doesn't have much but I think she owes it to him to go to work and pay him back. Advise, please. — Glendale, Calif.

Dear Glendale: Your husband did what he believed was the honorable thing. And there is always the chance that his ex-wife did not intentionally trap him. She may have believed he was the father of her child.

No one can turn back a clock or a calendar. My advice is to forget the past and stop eating yourselves up. Your husband can see a lawyer if he wants to, but you can't get blood out of a turnip.

Sympathy Note

Dear Ann Landers: Will you settle an argument, please? Is it a breach of etiquette to send a sympathy note to a woman whose husband committed suicide?

I say yes. My friend says no. What do you say?

Your word will prevail. —

Counting On Ann

Dear Counting: It is not a breach of etiquette to send a sympathy note to a woman whose husband has committed suicide. In fact, under such circumstances it is even more important for the survivor to know that friends are thinking of her.

Isolation during such a traumatic time can be devastating. By all means let the bereaved woman hear from you.

Lady's Sick

Dear Ann Landers: What is wrong with a woman in her early 70s who is very wealthy and divorced, lives in a fine hotel downtown, sits in the lobby every day loaded with diamonds and does nothing but talk to people (gossip)? Her second-most-favorite subject is sickness and death. She takes particular delight in seeing someone carried from a hotel on a stretcher, preferably dead, so she will be among the first to know. This isn't hearsay, Ann. I've watched her by the hour.

Every night, "Diamond Lil" (as she is called behind her back) takes her position at the bar and proceeds to drink until she is so plastered someone has to lead her to her room and open the door. Do psychiatrists have a name for this kind of sickness? Please answer in the paper. A lot of people would enjoy seeing your reply. — St. Louis Lady

Dear Lady: That "sickness" is a combination of many things — alcoholism, loneliness, boredom — none of which are easy to live with. The woman sounds pathetic, and the only difference between her and millions of others is her money.

Incidentally, you seem to have a lot of spare time on your hands, Sister. The name for YOUR sickness is Nose Trouble.

There is a big difference between cold and cool. Ann Landers shows you how to play it cool without freezing people out in her booklet, "Teen-Age Sex—Ten Ways to Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, Gout seems to be a family characteristic. I am 26 and so far have no signs of it. Can it be prevented? Is gout in the rheumatism family?

Mr. T.M., Penn.

Dear Mr. M.: There does seem to be some hereditary or family tendency towards gout.

Gout is a peculiar disorder and disturbance in the manufacture and elimination of uric acid. For reasons that are still not entirely clear to doctors and scientists, some people tend to accumulate uric acid in the blood. When this level is high, symptoms of gout are likely to appear.

When it is determined that there is a tendency to gout or an increase of uric acid in the blood, certain foods should be reduced or avoided. These foods are the ones known to be high in purine, a substance from which uric acid is derived.

Purines are especially high in anchovies, liver, sweetbreads, brains, gravies, and alcohol. Asparagus, cauliflower and lentils, too, have a slightly higher purine content.

Early evidence of gout can be determined by a study of the blood. High levels of uric acid are the determining factor if a gouty tendency is present.

There are now a number of excellent drugs which can reduce uric acid levels in the blood. One drug, probenecid, is used to encourage the elimination of acid by way of the urine. Once a gouty condition is discovered, this drug can be taken in a preventative way for many years.

A new drug, allopurinol, works in a different way. This one prevents the change of purine into uric acid.

Occasionally, both drugs are used at the same time, depending on the severity of the condition.

Under a doctor's direction, these drugs can be manipulated, depending on the concentration of uric acid in the blood.

The symptoms of gout in its early phases may indeed be confused with rheumatism, neuralgia, bursitis and even arthritis. The popular impression that gout affects only the big toe is false. Another misconception about gout is that it is a status symbol disease associated with the rich and overindulgent sector of society. Gout can occur at all social and economic levels.

DR. LESTER COLEMAN has prepared a special booklet entitled "What to Do About Uric Acid." For your copy, send 25 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Lester L. Coleman, M.D., (Ureter Booklet), P.O. Box 5178, Grand Central Station, New York City 10017. Please mention the booklet by title.

Potholder Incentive

An ad for a bank just promised me a six-piece potholder set (in green or orange) if I deposited $500.

This is not the first time they've tried to woo me into parting with my money. A few months ago, it was a popcorn popper for a new $1,000 savings account and a thermal blanket with dual controls for a $10,000 certificate.

Frankly, I'm delighted to see that banks have finally become realistic about the value of money.

The other day my husband and I went into the bank to float a loan for a new car.

The banker was pleased. "Fine," he said. "Now what do you have as collateral?"

We could hardly contain our excitement as we exchanged glances. "Mr. Farquardt, for the use of your $1,000 for one year...no fair taking it back before then...we are going to give you either a set of matching Cannon bath towels or a genuine cowhide billfold with a picture of Debra Paget, suitable for framing."

"You're kidding," he said. "I told you he'd get choked up." I said nudging my husband. "Tell him the rest."

"If you let us have the money for two years without touching it, we'll throw in a Bonsai tree guaranteed to grow 1½ inches a year."

"Just a minute," said Mr. Farquardt. "The bank is not a discount house. It's a lending agency."

"Then what are all those cookbooks and dishes doing in the lobby?"

"That's just an incentive for people to deposit money."

"Wonderful, and we are offering you the same opportunity to lend it."

"I'm afraid that's quite impossible," he explained. "You have no car?"

"That's why we are borrowing the money."

"Your house?"

"You already own it. Look, Mr. Farquardt, this is our last offer. For the loan of $1,000 we will give you a six-piece potholder set (in green or orange)."

"What would I do with it?"

"The way we figure it," we said, "you're the only one in town with a pot to cook in."

Some forms of declarer insurance are easy to take out. In fact there is no cost involved.

When today's hand was played, South had no interest at all in insurance. West opened the ace of clubs and continued with the queen. South played dummy's king without a moment's hesitation. East ruffed, but this didn't worry South. He overruffed, ran off a few rounds of trumps and led a diamond.

When West showed out, he did stop for some prolonged and fruitless study. There was no way left for him to collect 12 tricks.

He was mighty unlucky indeed. West didn't really need an eight-card club suit for his non-vulnerable preempt and diamonds don't always break 4-0, but he had a free insurance policy at his disposal.

All he had to do at trick two was to play dummy's nine of clubs instead of the king.

East could ruff or do anything that his fancy told him, but South would have had no worries. He would be sure of 12 tricks provided he remembered to draw trumps before putting in his claim.

Senate May Take Up School Strike Bill

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — With school strike legislation bogged down in a House committee, the Michigan Senate may soon begin consideration of a similar bill.

Sen. David Plawecki, D-Deerborn Heights, chairman of the Senate Labor Committee, tentatively has scheduled a meeting on the measure April 30.

Bills in both chambers are aimed at preventing widespread teacher strikes by setting settlement provisions and legalizing some strikes.

Plawecki, however, said he opposes provisions in both House and Senate bills which would permit strikes in the middle of the school year and which contain no economic pressure against school boards and teachers to force them to settle their disputes.

Plawecki's comments came as the House Labor Committee briefly took up the "Keith bill." The measure is named after Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, who chaired a special committee drafting a bill. It has been the primary measure under discussion so far.

The committee voted to remove a "management rights clause" which exempted the employer from collective bargaining over powers "delegated...by law."

Committee advisors said the provision was meaningless.

The committee also voted to remove all the penalty provisions in the bill after being told they were unworkable and too severe. They are likely to be redrawn and resubmitted, however.

The Keith bill would provide a suggested timetable for negotiations and for binding arbitration if either party requests it. The measure would make an arbitrator's decision binding on both parties if either accepted it but would permit limited teacher strikes if neither accepts it.

Organized labor, whose influence on the Democratic-controlled committee is strong, has come out against the bill, however, and consideration of the measure has been sporadic.

It is slated again for discussion again next week.

The Michigan Association of School Administrators came out Thursday in support of the Keith bill. While it has "reser-Plawecki said he could agree with either binding arbitration of a limited right to strike, but said he wouldn't buy strikes in the middle of the school year or failing to apply economic pressure to settle disputes.

Panel Studies CIA Coverup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential panel on CIA domestic activities is investigating whether the agency withheld information from the Warren Commission to cover up CIA involvement in an alleged plot to kill Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, informed sources said.

David W. Belin, staff director of the CIA panel headed by Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller, has demanded in letters to the agency that it reveal all its contacts with would-be Castro assassins, the sources said.

Reds Closing In On Viet Enclave

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong closed in today on the Saigon government's last enclave on the central coast, jabbed at the edges of Saigon and shelled the big Bien Hoa air base 15 miles northeast of Saigon again.

There were still no indications that a North Vietnamese drive on Saigon had begun, but analysts predicted it was only a matter of time before the Communists consolidate their forces and attack.

Military sources said North Vietnamese troops mounted fierce attacks on Phan Thiet, a coastal city 100 miles east of Saigon and the capital of Binh Thuan province. They said radio contact between Phan Thiet and four district towns was lost, indicating they had been taken over by the Communists.

Phan Thiet and Phan Rang, 130 miles northeast of Saigon, were bypassed by the advancing North Vietnamese and Viet Cong when the Saigon forces fled from the northern and central parts of South Vietnam.

Apparently the Communists did not have sufficient forces in the area to take them over. The Saigon command announced the loss of Phan Rang on Wednesday.

The situation in Cambodia was unknown. Radio Phnom Penh, now in the hands of the victorious Khmer Rouge, broadcast propaganda statements and reruns of accounts of the taking of the Cambodian capital Thursday. Commercial communication channels were not open.

Sources in Bangkok said Premier Long Boret, the head of the fallen Cambodian government, was taken into custody Thursday as he was trying to flee from Phnom Penh by helicopter. Earlier reports said he had escaped to Kompong Chhnang, 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh.

Folk Dancers Plan Fund Raising Events

Four fund raising events to help send a group of Van Buren county young people on a cultural exchange tour to Poland this summer, have been announced by the steering committee of the Van Buren Folk Dancers.

The events include an evening of square and round dancing Friday, April 25, at 8 p.m. at Decatur high school, a benefit dance at the Lawrence American Legion hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 14, and two folk dance festivals, at 4 p.m. Sunday, April 27 at South Haven high school, and Sunday, May 4 at 4 p.m. at Paw Paw high school.

Proceeds will go toward the Folk Dancers' goal of $52,000 which will be used to send 32 dancers and adult chaperones on a 23-day tour of Poland in late June. The Folk Dancers still have about $13,000 to raise toward the project, according to Mrs. Donald (Sandy) Hanson of Decatur, a steering committee member.

An invitation to make the trip was extended to the Folk Dancers in January is subsidy the Polish government, which is subsidizing part of the cost.

Over the past 23 years, contributions to the Folk Dancers have amounted to over $30,000 which has been donated to support the Van Buren Youth camp near Bloomingdale.

Music for the dance has been donated by The Unknowns and caller Boo Weber of Decatur. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. Tickets for the Lawrence dance are $2.50 for adults and $1 for children, with music being donated by Clarence Mott and the Country Sunshines.

Tickets for the folk festivals in South Haven and Paw Paw are $3 for adults and $1 for students under 18.

Contributions to the group, which are tax deductible, can be sent in care of Roger Kroschinsky, 135 Orchard lane, Paw Paw.

State Milk Dating Bill On Way To Milliken's Desk

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A measure requiring dairies to stamp a recommended date of sale on milk containers as a warning to consumers is on its way to the governor.

The Michigan House approved the bill Thursday, 106-1. It would require stores to lower storage temperatures from 50 to 45 degrees Fahrenheit, keeping the produce fresh for a longer period.

If the governor signs the bill as expected, the state Agriculture Department would write rules requiring milk products be labeled with a recommended last date of sale. Each processor would establish his own date.

Products could be sold after the recommended date as long as advertised that way. The last date of sale would be prior to the day the milk is expected to lose nutritional value or changes flavor.

The House also approved, 97-10, a bill to more closely regulate debt management firms. The firms consolidate an individual's debt for a fee and pay creditors. The measure goes to the Senate.

Debt management firms are doing a landslide business because of the economic recession, say aides to Gov. William Milliken, who supports the bill.

Debt managers would have to file a financial statement with the state and investigators could make unannounced checks of a firm's books. Debt managers also would be checked for criminal records, and could be denied a license if such evidence is found.

A bill urging payments for mental patients who work for the institution in which they reside also was approved by the House, 106-1, and goes to the Senate.

The bill is aimed at Gov. William Milliken, who axed an $800,000 appropriation for the program.

The state Mental Health Department supports the plan and officials say the program also would provide therapy, as the patients contribute to the operation of the facility.

The House also approved a House-Senate conference committee report, 108-0, which authorizes a $10 fee for those wishing to hunt pheasants in the state's annual "put and take" hunt.

A Senate amendment which would have ended the plan next year was deleted.

'QBVII' Dominates List Of TV Emmy Nominations

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "QBVII," the six-hour dramatization of a novel dealing with a doctor accused of aiding the Nazis in Germany, dominates the list of Emmy nominations although neither of its stars was nominated as best actor.

Thirteen nominations went to "QBVII," based on the novel by Leon Uris, but neither Ben Gazzara nor Anthony Perkins was nominated as best actor in the television special category.

The weekly series winning the most nominations for the Television Academy of Arts and Sciences awards were "M-A-S-H," with 11, and "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," with nine.

The other series nominated were "Cher" and "The Streets of San Francisco," with seven nominations each.

Specials that captured several nominations were "Queen of the Starburst Ballroom" with nine nominations, including best actor, Charles Durning, and best actress, Maureen Stapleton, and "The Missiles of October" with eight, including William DeVane, best actor.

The other nominees for best actor in a dramatic special were Richard Chamberlain, "The Count of Monte Cristo"; Henry Fonda, "Clarence Darrow"; and Laurence Olivier, "Love Among the Ruins."

Starring with Olivier in that special was three-time Oscar winner Katharine Hepburn, who was nominated as best dramatic actress in her television debut.

Other best actress nominees were Jill Clayburgh, "Hustling"; Elizabeth Montgomery, "The Legend of Lizzie Borden"; and Diana Rigg, "In This House of Brede."

Mary Tyler Moore was nominated as best actress in a comedy series as was Valerie Harper, whose show "Rhoda" is an offshoot of "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," and Jean Stapleton of "All in the Family."

Another nominee from "All in the Family" was Carroll O'Connor as best actor in a comedy series. Other nominees in that category were Alan Alda, "M-A-S-H"; Tony Randall and Jack Klugman, "The Odd Couple"; and Jack Albertson, "Chico and the Man."

The nominees for best actor in a dramatic series were Karl Malden, "The Streets of San Francisco"; Robert Blake, "Baretta"; Barry Newman, "Petronelelli"; and Telly Savalas, "Kojak."

Nominated for leading actress in a dramatic series were Angie Dickinson, "Policewoman"; Michael Learned, "The Waltons"; and Jean Marsh, "Upstairs, Downstairs."

Victorious Connally To Stay In Politics

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — John B. Connally says he hopes to resume his political life in some form following his acquittal on bribery charges.
"I hope as long as I live I never lose the desire to participate in political affairs," said the former Treasury secretary and one-time presidential prospect.

"Now in what role, in what capacity, in what way it will be done, I don't know. I'm not about to describe it today, or even in the next few days or next week."

Connally spoke to newsmen outside federal court Thursday evening just minutes after a jury found him innocent of charges that he took two $5,000 payoffs for helping dairymen by urging higher milk price supports in 1971.

The prosecution's case against him had been based primarily on the testimony of Jake Jacobsen, a former lawyer for the dairymen, who said he paid Connally the money. Jacobsen had admitted to the jury that he perjured himself in testifying about the case in other forums.
Connally was reading a Bible when the jury filed into the courtroom after deliberating for six hours. He sat pokerfaced as the jury foreman announced the verdict of "not guilty."

Then Connally beamed, embraced his wife Nell and shook hands with his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams. Connally's daughter Sharon wept with happiness.
He said he had no immediate plans except to return to Texas. "We haven't thought beyond this moment," he said.
Outside, he spoke to newsmen for the first time since the trial began April 1.

Did he feel vindicated?
"I don't suppose I think of it so much as a vindication," he said. "I'm happy. Nell's happy. The children are. All of the family is. I suppose we never felt there could be any outcome but this.... I thought they made us worry about it for some time here today, but I'm happy about it."
Connally, a Democrat before he switched to the Republican party in 1973, had been considered a possible presidential contender. Before his indictment last year he was in constant demand for appearances at GOP fund-raising events around the country.
Had the indictment and trial derailed his presidential hopes?
"Well, I don't know and I haven't given any thought to it, very frankly," he said. "I won't think about it for some time. I

Holmes Could Escape Charges

DETROIT (AP) — State Rep. Kirby Holmes might not be prosecuted for welfare fraud if he did not cash state welfare checks he received, the head of a criminal investigation said.
Holmes, R-Utica, insists he falsified his family status and background only to show how easy it was to be a welfare cheat and did not cash any of the checks he got.

"A possible determining factor will be if he cashed any of the checks or vouchers. That will have a heavy bearing on the case," said Dominick Carnovale, chief of the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office Criminal Division. Holmes applied for welfare with a false story and the help of several friends last January in Detroit.

Holmes was scheduled to meet with Carnovale and welfare officials Friday in Detroit. State officials are expected to have their final report on the matter at that time, Carnovale said.

Holmes told Carnovale at a meeting Thursday that he did not cash any of the welfare checks.

There remained conflicts over the amount of welfare aid sent to Holmes, Carnovale said. Holmes insisted he got just over $400, while state welfare officials contended it was $341.

Welfare fraud involving more than $500 is a felony, while under $500 is a misdemeanor.

"The amounts are all fouled up," Carnovale said. "One rent check they said he got was still stuck in a computer somewhere so you can knock off $314."

Holmes, a longtime critic of welfare inefficiency, said he disclosed he was getting welfare payments after news reporters found about his scheme Monday morning. However, welfare officials say they suspect he decided to divulge his plan when they notified him Monday afternoon that he was under investigation for welfare fraud.

Swainson Working As Usual--Daughter

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Supreme Court Justice John B. Swainson is in good spirits and is unconcerned about bribery allegations against him, his daughter said Thursday night.

In a telephone interview from their home in Manchester, Mich., Tina Swainson, 18, said her father, former Michigan governor, is "going on with his work as usual."

Miss Swainson said her father was home but "isn't available."

Asked about the charges against him, Miss Swainson said: "That's not true," but added she had not discussed the allegations at great length with him.

Earlier Thursday, U.S. Atty. Ralph B. Guy revealed that the Michigan judiciary — including Swainson — has been the target of a federal inquiry for the past two years.

Guy said the probe didn't necessarily focus on Swainson from the beginning.

Court officials said Thursday that Swainson will retain his position on the high court while the probe continues.

"The investigation into allegations that there's been bribery in return for judicial action has been going on for two years, but not necessarily of Swainson," said Guy. "That's the only statement I'm going to give you on the thing."

He wouldn't say if the Supreme Court was the only branch of the judiciary being examined.

"We investigate every serious charge brought to the attention of federal authorities," Guy said. "An investigation is not tantamount to accusation or indictment."

Swainson, meanwhile, refused to comment on the allegations lodged by convicted burglar John Whalen, who reportedly says $40,000 was paid to Swainson and to a Detroit bondsman in 1972 to insure the court would review his conviction.

Chief Justice Thomas G. Kavanagh said Swainson supported review of the Whalen conviction after applications twice were rejected. Thursday Kavanagh said Swainson's status on the bench isn't affected by disclosure of the probe.

Kavanagh said there is "no consideration" being given to asking the former Michigan governor to step down.

"There is no reason for him not to participate at this time," said Don Riggs of the court's public information office in Lansing.

The chief justice said he doesn't believe the accusations against Swainson.

But Kavanagh acknowledged Chicago attorney Albert Jenner had been retained by the Supreme Court judges. Jenner was a Republican counsel to the U.S. House Judiciary Committee last year during its impeachment investigation.

A scheduled Thursday meeting between Jenner and Guy was canceled.

Jenner said that because the story has broken, he didn't care to come to Detroit right now," Guy said. "I guess he didn't feel like being swarmed upon at the airport by a pack of newsmen."

Guy said a new date for a meeting with Jenner hasn't been set.

Whalen has claimed the $40,000 was paid to get his 1972 conviction in Lenawee County reviewed by the Supreme Court.

The High Court at first refused to hear the appeal but later reviewed the case and reversed the conviction in a unanimous decision.

Oldster Group Wins $333,333

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Retiree power combined with green power in the State Lottery weekly drawing today as a group of oldsters — members of the Lithuanian Gardens Inc. of Detroit — won the $333,333 top prize.

Jonas Vysniauskas of Detroit represented the nonprofit group in the drawing at Flint's Genesee Mall and announced he and his fellow members had chosen to take a lump sum in cash rather than $20,000 a year for life.

He said the group which calls itself Lithuanian Gardens Inc. is made up of about 20 persons — mostly retirees — who get together for dancing and other entertainment and also own some recreational land they use for hiking and gardening.

A Green Bay, Wis., tavern owner was the runnerup in today's competition for $78,000 in lottery prize money. Norbert J. Palubicki, 51, annually holds a summer party for retarded youngsters which is financed from $1 donations from his tavern patrons.

The third place finisher in the drawing also was from outside Michigan. Steven R. Weissner, 28, of Milford, Ind., won $50,000. He is an electronic technician for Miles Laboratories in Elkhart, Ind.

Winning $20,000 each were: Thomas H. Evans, 52, of East Detroit, an elevator mechanic for Lardner Elevator Co. in Detroit; Willie Harvey, 22, a kidoff Chrysler worker from Detroit; James W. Moore, 30, of Pontiac, an auto worker at General Motors' Pontiac Division; Eva Petterle, 43, an Allen Park housewife; John Rinehart, 29, of Portage, a clerk at Kroger's; and Bruno Stachowski, 60, of Roseville.

Prison Official: Terms Too Short

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — A psychologist for Southern Michigan Prison says there are too many dangerous criminals being allowed to circulate in society today.

John S. Hand, clinical psychologist and director of the prison's program for sexual offenders, said Wednesday judicial and penal authorities must start considering longer incarceration for criminals who repeat crimes.

Hand said part of the problem is there are too many judges in Michigan who "work a 20-hour week" by taking pleas to reduce charges and not imposing maximum prison sentences.

Hand said a maximum sentence would enable prisons to remove dangerous persons from society when basic antisocial problems are not corrected.

Hand, 32, was appearing in

'Close-Up' Takes A Look At Legal Profession

By JAY SHARBUIT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The legal profession is getting a once-over-briskly look Saturday night in an ABC News "Closeup" special provocatively entitled "Lawyers: Guilty as Charged?" Its bill of particulars includes issues of "excessive fees, neglect of clients, opposition to new ways the law might better serve the public and inadequate policing of their (lawyers') own profession." But don't expect any damning or even damning indictments from this one-hour legal proceeding. They aren't there. And the show is curiously dull in its study of a fascinating profession.

Time that might have been spent on detailed questioning or hearing from some of the accused is frittered away on such obvious things as the difficulty of choosing a lawyer, the lack of plain English in law and the fact it's often hard to collect a financial award made in a small claims court.

And its scrutiny is far from complete when it gets down to the real goodies, such as "fee schedules," the minimum rate some bar associations say can be charged for certain legal services.

It does study the case of a northern Virginia couple who've charged in a court suit that a local bar association's fee schedule system is anticompetitive and violates federal anti-trust laws.

But it doesn't ask how widespread this system is in the United States, nor does it ask various bar association heads whether and why they approve or disapprove of the system.

A number of readers have written to inquire why, as one of them put it, I "have it in for Secretary of State Henry Kissinger." The answer involved both ideological and personal considerations. Let us begin with the latter. When I say "personal" reasons, I am not referring to anything that Kissinger has ever done to me. I have known him casually for about 20 years and our relationship was amicable. However, I believe with the Greeks that character is fate, and there are aspects of Kissinger's behavior which I find disturbing in this personal sense, notably his servility to those above him combined with the atrocious bullying of those who work for him. You have all probably met this type of person at some point in life, but my experience in politics, where they abound, has perhaps unduly influenced my judgment: I simply do not trust them. (And I should add for the benefit of those who accuse me of partisanship that I felt exactly the same way about the men of this sort who clustered around John Kennedy, Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey.)

But I would be the first to admit that this characterological suspicion hardly provides a solid basis for criticism. So let us turn to the public career of Henry Kissinger, first as National Security Advisor, then as both Advisor and Secretary of State. Here I submit the Secretary-Advisor has shown an almost uncanny talent for strange and disingenuous activity. He was fortunate in that the media, for lack of an alternative, cast him as the Good Guy in the Nixon White House, and — as he pointed out in a singularly revealing interview with the Italian journalist Oriana Fallaci — he revelled in the role. This in itself is no crime, but there then occurred the typical Kissinger scenario: he denied some of her more telling quotes until she produced a tape!

This is Kissinger's "Midas touch": everything he gets involved in suddenly becomes ambiguous. Did he know and authorize the bugging of some National Security staffers and reporters? Well, he knew but did not order them. What did this mean? That he personally did not say "bug X" but sent the message by his deputy, Gen. Alexander Haig? The Senate Foreign Relations Committee absolved Kissinger of complicity, leaving Haig to carry the can. Like a good soldier he did so, but this opens another question. What kind of shop is it where the boss lets his deputy play games of this sort? How does it mesh with Kissinger's known propensity to handle everything down to the most minute detail?

Then there is the question that still haunts us about Kissinger's conduct of the Vietnam negotiations. I followed these very closely and, frankly, it was then that I began to wonder whether Nixon's negotiator was not working both sides of the street. I wanted "peace with honor," and the last time I talked to him in the fall of 1972 Kissinger assured me there would be no disguised surrender. But then I kept running into fulltime Washington journalists, mostly "doves," who said on the highest authority that all "Henry" was after was "a decent interval" — that is, to get the U.S. out reasonably in advance of a Saigon collapse.

Now I distrust hearsay, but after a while the pattern becomes credible, and what it added up to was that the Secretary-Advisor has been less than candid. On Dec. 3, 1974, for example, he testified before the Senate Finance Committee that Moscow would accept the substance of the Jackson amendment, on freedom of emigration, to the trade bill. Somewhere on his desk was a letter (later released by Moscow) from Foreign Minister Gromyko dated Oct. 28th flatly rejecting the Jackson proviso. When asked why he failed to mention this letter in testifying on Dec. 3, the Secretary said he "forgot."

HITS FOREIGN POLICY WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson charged today that U.S. foreign policy in recent years has been marked by "a pattern of secretive personal diplomacy" that has prevented Congress from playing its proper constitutional role in cooperation with the executive branch.

Niles Firm Tells Its Position On Plant Shutdown

By JOHN DYE
South Berrien Bureau

NILES — A major issue in the contract dispute leading to the shutdown Wednesday of the Tyler Refrigeration plant here involved seniority provisions, a spokesman for the firm said in a letter to employees.

Copies of the letter were mailed to the firm's 250 to 300 production workers after the plant was closed.

According to the firm spokesman, the firm wants to reopen as soon as possible, but said agreement on a new contract had to be reached.

The firm is a division of Clark Equipment company, Buchanan, and a spokesman said yesterday that the shutdown did not affect other plants in the division.

The shutdown came after contract talks between the firm and the union representing the workers, Local 816, Allied Industrial Workers, failed to produce an agreement. The old contract expired at midnight Tuesday.

Morris Jones, president of the local, said a meeting for members had been called for 2 p.m. today.

Complete text of the company's letter, signed by W. P. Linnen, general manager, follows:

"You know by now that as of noon Wednesday, April 10, 1975, the company having failed to reach an agreement with your union, ceased manufacturing operations at the Tyler-Niles plant. In the event that you have not read a copy of the company's statement to your bargaining committee at the time the decision was made to cease operations, attached is a copy of that statement.

"I just want to re-emphasize and call to your attention the last sentence of that statement. It is our position that we desire to reopen the Niles plant just as soon as possible. However, we can only reopen at such time as we reach an agreement with your union which will enable us to become competitive in the market place and to prosper and grow in the community. "In times such as these, many things are said, heard, or talked about at the barbershop or supermarket. Much of what is said unfortunately is not always based on fact. So that you have a clear understanding of the major issues which led to the decision to cease operations, following is a summary of some of the issues.

"You have heard through news announcements on the radio and probably have been told that the company wanted to 'take away your seniority' rights. Nothing could be further from the truth. However, in order to operate more efficiently to enable Tyler-Niles to catch up with competition and grow, the company has asked that a bargaining unit member's plant wide seniority be applied to classification by department. In other words, what the company has suggested, which in its opinion wouldn't detract from seniority but would allow it to operate efficiently, is that an employee when bidding, bid to a classification within a department.

"Should a layoff occur within a classification, the employee with the least amount of seniority within that classification and department would be laid off. That, in our opinion, is reaching seniority. In turn, the employee who got laid off, if his seniority and capabilities permitted, could displace the employee with the least amount of seniority in any other department within his classification. Absent his ability to do so, he then would have the privilege of exercising his seniority rights.

"Another issue at stake is the bidding procedure itself. In order to stabilize our work force so that production — building of cases — can be facilitated, the company has suggested that employees be allowed to bid on posted jobs as in the past. However, once an employee has made such a bid, we ask that he remain in that classification in the department for a period of four months before bidding again. An exception would be where an employee is laid off or displaced, in which case he could bid immediately.

"Another issue which you may have been told about has to do with vacations. In order to help properly plan production, the company is simply asking that employees provide at least two weeks advance notice of taking a vacation and that vacations be taken in no less than one week segments.

"We have also been told that some employees were advised that in order to bid on a job, that an employee must be able to perform that job without any prior experience. This is not so. The current method of permitting an employee a trial period of 10 days on a new bid job is not being proposed to be changed by the company.

"One other item I would like to mention is the company's concern about its ability to get work performed when required. Currently the company is restricted in the number of times the company is permitted to transfer an employee. The company is seeking relief in this area so that it may function efficiently and benefit all concerned.

"These are some of the issues at hand, but those I have mentioned are the major ones. It is hoped that you and others appreciate a basic fact of life that if a company cannot operate efficiently and profitably, it will eventually cease to exist. Unfortunately, we have an instance of just such a thing happening with another company in Niles, right now. Your company was in hopes that our recent negotiations would lay a foundation upon which together we can rebuild the Tyler-Niles operation to one of prominence in the industry.

"We think that these are small enough items to ask in return for the excellent wages paid and benefits granted. In the event that you have not been told the average straight-time hourly rate of an hourly employee at the Tyler-Niles location is $5.98 per hour. There are companies in our community that pay as much as $1.60 per hour less, and provide benefits that nowhere approach the level we have. In fact, no other company in Niles pays more than we.

"What is even more significant is the fact that some of our competitors located in other areas of the country pay as much as $2.15 per hour less than we. It is our sincere belief that the least we can expect from the very fine wages and benefits currently being provided is the opportunity to utilize manpower in an efficient manner so as to benefit both you, the employee, and the company. It is our sincere hope that our differences may soon be resolved and that operations can resume."

Funeral services will be held Monday at 1 p.m. at Robbins Brothers chapel for Willie Johnson, 54, of 965 Jennings street, Benton Harbor. He died Wednesday evening at Mercy hospital. Burial will be in Crystal Springs cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after noon on Sunday.

White Collar Crime Is Big Problem

supplemented by questionnaires sent to all 93 U.S. attorneys, all 50 state attorneys general, and 50 state law enforcement assistance planning agencies.

It said that only five of the U.S. attorneys responded, but several others referring the query to the Justice Department. Twenty-seven attorneys general and 32 of the state agencies also replied.

"The response to the questionnaire reflected the low priority and paucity of compiled information accorded white-collar crime" and "verified that only a minuscule portion of these officials maintained any useful data on white-collar crime," the report said.

It said further that law enforcement agencies devote a very small proportion of their resources to white-collar crime compared with what is spent on street and violent crime. In 1974, only 15 per cent of the Justice Department's legal activities budget went for white-collar crime, it said.

At the same time, the business community which is hardhit by various forms of white-collar crime "has shown itself either incapable or unwilling to police its own ranks or to aid law enforcement agencies in the detection and prosecution of white-collar crime," it said.

It said political corruption has not been limited to the federal government in cases such as Watergate but has permeated all levels of government, crimes affecting the nation's economic institutions.

PRISON DISTURBANCE

IONIA, Mich. (AP) — Some 40 prisoners created what officials described as a "disturbance" in the detention area at the Ionia reformatory Thursday night.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Man Suffers Gunshot Wound

A man was treated and released from Mercy hospital this morning after sustaining a gunshot wound in his leg during an argument, Benton Harbor police reported.

Nathan Tucker, of 1125 Broadway, was wounded at his home. Patrolman Jim Hartman said. Hartman reported Tucker said he was shot by a woman who came to his house after they argued in a telephone conversation.

Hartman said no arrest was made pending signing of a complaint. A .25 caliber pistol was seized.

A Benton Harbor man told police he was threatened by two men armed with a knife and a shotgun while walking in the 700 block of Columbus avenue yesterday afternoon.

Curtis Miles, 20, of 275 High street, told city police two men approached him about 4 p.m. One of the men allegedly threw a knife at Miles, then the other drew a shotgun.

Miles told police he fled and was not injured. Police were still investigating the incident.

A Three Rivers man was pushed to the ground by three men early this morning then robbed of a wallet containing $40 and a fishing license, Benton Harbor police said.

Roosevelt Nelson, 55, of 189 East Michigan. Three Rivers, told Officer Carol Adams that he was shoved to the ground in the 400 block of Territorial road shortly before 1 a.m. Nelson said the men were not armed and that he was not injured.

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor Police Thursday were: —A record player valued at $50 from a portable classroom at Columbus school, 815 Columbus avenue.

—A television set valued at $400 from the home of Ernest Culpepper, 1271 Pavone street.

Thefts reported to Benton Harbor police Thursday were:

—A camera and two tape decks valued at a total of $215 from the home of Donna Butler, 580 South Crystal avenue.

—A radio and a wedding ring valued at a total of $460 from the home of Paul Adams, 1638 Britain avenue.

Berrien sheriff's deputies said a tape player and tapes valued at a total of $180 were reported missing Thursday from a car owned by Beverly Moore, of apartment B-8, 4419 Red arrow highway, Stevensville. The car was parked in the apartment lot.

Waterliet Teen Is Finalist

WATERLIET — Susan DeYoung, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward J. DeYoung, Beechwood Circle drive, Waterliet, is one of six finalists in a talent contest sponsored by WO-TV, Channel 8 in Grand Rapids. The winner, who will receive a $500 savings bond, will be selected tonight with the show being aired Sunday at 10:30 p.m. Susan will perform a piano solo and was one of 200 who entered the contest. She is a junior at Waterliet high school.

telligence network, employ specialists, subpoena witnesses and grant immunity, and, in general, "offer a permanence, a perspective, and a continuity that individual grand juries cannot achieve," the governor said.

In other areas, Milliken recommended the following: —Curb, but not eliminate, plea bargaining, especially for repeat offenders, and slap progressively tougher sentences on repeaters.

—Increase the state Parole Board from five to seven members and scale down "good time" used for early release. But, Milliken said, "it is questionable to assume that increasing sentences, across-the-board by eliminating good time would automatically result in fewer offenses committed by parolees."

—State operation of the Women's Division of the Detroit House of Corrections, and a new health care program for state prisoners.

—Additional mandatory sentences for using a gun while committing a crime, mandatory sentences for conviction of illegal possession of a handgun, requiring fingerprinting for the purchase of a handgun, licensing and regulating firearms dealers, and outlawing long guns at strikes and public disturbances.

—Governatorial appointment of judges to the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals with the help of a judicial qualification committee. This would take a constitutional amendment.

—Full state funding of the district courts within a year.

—Compensation of victims of violent crime to make up lost wages or medical expenses if economically harpessed.

—Legislation to alter the verdict of "not guilty by reason of insanity" to keep dangerous felons off the streets. A recent court decision asserted such prisoners are as entitled to determinations of their mental state as are civil commitments, and has led to freedom for a few.

than at the same time last year but down from $946 million at the end of 1974, he added.

"The incoming order rate has continued to be soft in most lines of our business, making operations in the second half much more uncertain," Phillips said. "For the long run, however, we see continued growth in our basic business."

He said the company is moving ahead with its previously announced expansion plans, but has delayed the start of some plant construction. Total capital expenditures in 1975 are expected to be about $80 million.

Van Buren Marriage Licenses

PAW PAW — The following marriage licenses have been issued by Van Buren county Clerk Charles E. MacDonald:

Jimmy Joe Frost, 22, Lawton, and Susan Lorene Manning, 18, Matlawn.

Kevin Harold Edwards, 24, Plainwell, and Netty Sherman Boyer, 19, Paw Paw.

David Allen Sparks, 19, and Patricia Mary Zink, 19, both of South Haven.

Thomas James Kesteloot, 35, Chicago, and Faith Elaine Dolores Road, 24, Paw Paw.

Wesley J. Knapp, 19, and Linda Kay Frazee, 18, both of Bloomingdale.

Coy Alvin Nation, 29, and DeLois Ferguson, 34, both of South Haven.

Hollis Asa Henry, 60, Kalamazoo, and Lena Irene Howright, 55, Decatur.

Jack Devonne Peterson, 44, and Gloria Maldonado, 22, both of South Haven.

Gary Hubert Carlisle, 19, Hartford, and Barbara Jean Burns, 20, Gobles.

James Andrew Patterson, III, 26, Paw Paw, and Antoinette Katie Offord, 21, Kalamazoo.

Children Get Blame For Fires

Children playing with matches apparently caused a mattress fire and two of three grass fires extinguished by Benton township firemen Thursday.

Firemen said a mattress burned yesterday at 11:34 a.m. after a boy was playing with matches at the home of Horace Doan, 1008 Glencoe, Benton township.

Two grass fires at Euclid avenue near Butler were also set by children playing with matches, firemen said. About an acre and a half burned at 5:34 p.m. and about a half acre at 7:30 p.m.

A third grass fire at 3482 Twinline road was caused by an uncovered trash burner, firemen said. The fire was reported at 4:32 p.m.

of the elected officials.

"A misrepresented the facts pertaining to the assessment of agricultural property."

"3. Through coercion caused the resignation of the chief of police."

McDonald said that only the second charge was partly true in that in campaigning for reelection last fall he said he would attempt to eliminate the assessor's post and assume the duties himself.

The other charges are not true, McDonald said.

Today In MICHIGAN

No Malpractice Success

LANSENG, Mich. (AP) — A ballyhooed week of effort designed to solve the state's medical malpractice insurance problem has been less than a rousing success.

A bill to guarantee insurance to all doctors is still stuck in a House committee, and only eight of several dozen bills designed to cope with the problem have been sent to the full House. Leaders in the Michigan House dubbed this past week as medical malpractice insurance week. They promised action on a dilemma that doctors say will force them to either stop practicing or leave the state because insurance is either too expensive or not available.

On Lookout For Scavengers

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — County dump officials are on the lookout for scavengers after a local couple abandoned their search for a mistakenly discarded nest egg of $2,900. Roger Baker, manager of the Muskegon County landfill site, said only people with loads of trash to dump were being admitted. He added that there seemed to be more customers than usual Thursday. But there was no indication that anyone found the money. Eugene and Ruth Goryl spent all day Wednesday digging through tons of garbage. Goryl, 42, has been unemployed for a year. His wife, Ruth, 28, had saved the money to pay their moving and relocation costs to Dallas where Goryl will work for the city zoo.

$10 Car Tax Criticized

DETROIT (AP) — A suggestion by the governor that a $10 tax be imposed on car owners in the Detroit tri-county area was strongly criticized Thursday by the head of Chrysler Corp. Chairman Lynn Townsend said the plan was "ill-conceived and badly timed." Any new tax on automobiles, he said, "is the wrong medicine for the ailing Michigan economy."

"This industry needs lower taxes to encourage car purchasers, not higher taxes to discourage them," said Townsend. Milliken said the funds would be used to finance a mass transit plan in the area taxed. Townsend said the mass transit concept, "where economically feasible," would be supported by the automaker. But he added, "We reject the idea of further taxing cars and gasoline to pay for it."

NEW ABCC BUILDING TO BE DISPLAYED

Whirlpool Subsidiary

The newest addition to Whirlpool Corporation's administrative complex will be on public display Sunday, with an open house from 2 to 4 p.m. It's the $2 million Appliance Buyers Credit Corporation (ABCC) headquarters at 353 Benson road, east of North Shore drive, Benton township.

ABCC is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Whirlpool, which provides finance services for appliance and radio-television dealers throughout America.

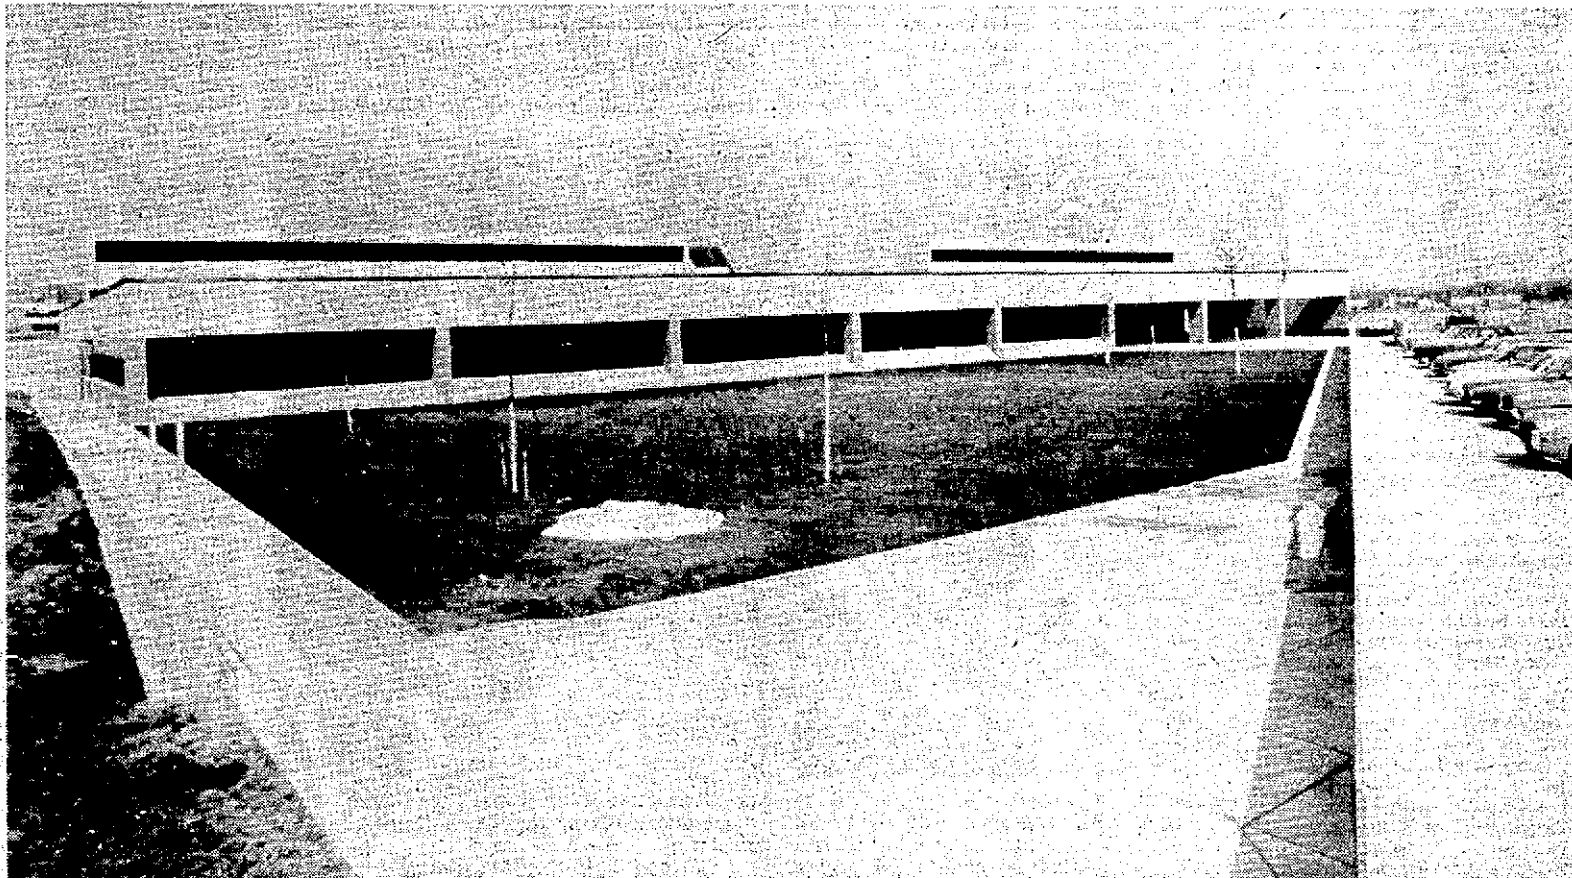

Stanley G. Petzel, president of ABCC, invited the public, saying: "We're proud of our new building, and we want to give our friends in the community a chance to take a good look at it. We think they'll find it different and refreshing."

The 35,000-square-foot building reflects an exciting departure from traditional office building design. Architects Giffels and Associates, Detroit, designed the single-story building to blend softly into its rolling landscape.

Two large sun scoops on the roof capture sunlight and flood the central area of the building with natural light. However, deeply recessed windows minimize solar heat load, reducing air conditioning requirements. Halls, offices and work areas are white with lateral files of red, gold and royal blue. Another feature is Herman Miller interior landscaping, which is used to create offices and work areas.

The new building replaces an outdated building, the former Cooper Wells dormitory on Broad street, St. Joseph. ABCC began moving into its new quarters in December, and the old building was demolished a few weeks ago. Approximately 80 people are employed in the new building which houses ABCC's administrative, accounting and computer functions.

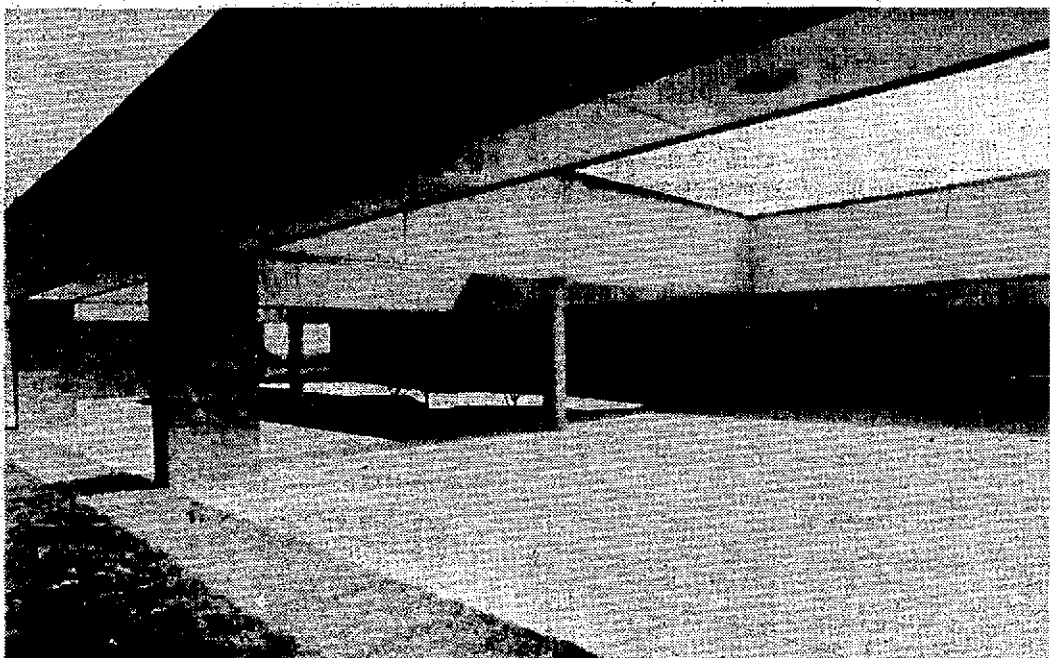

Founded by Whirlpool in 1957, ABCC has 70 branch offices and ranks among the leading financial institutions of its kind in the country.

NEW ABCC HEADQUARTERS: This is the view visitors will get Sunday as they approach new headquarters of Appliance Buyers Credit Corporation for open house, 2 to 4 p.m. Building fronts on Benson road, east of North Shore drive, Benton township. Structures at top of building are sun scoops to capture sunlight. Pearson Construction, Benton Harbor, was general contractor. Architects were Giffels and Associates, Detroit. About 80 people are employed in building located at Whirlpool's North Shore complex.

REAR COURTYARD: This courtyard at Appliance Buyers Credit Corporation headquarters was constructed to accommodate expansion of building if necessary. It faces Whirlpool's administrative center.

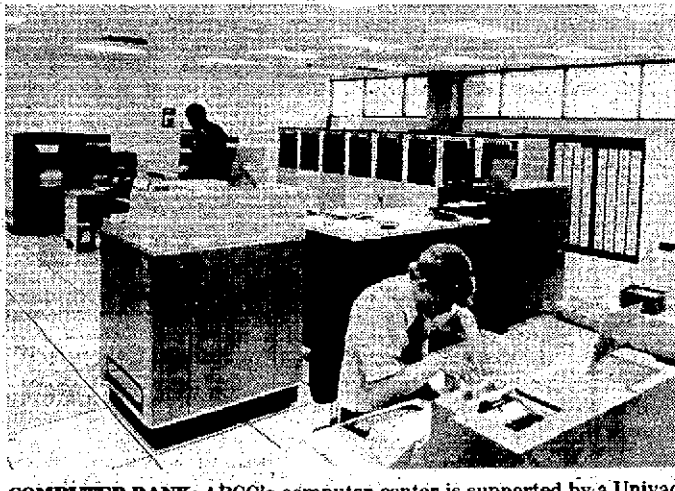

MAIN WORK AREA: Designed by Giffels and Associates of Detroit, ABCC's main work area is accented by Herman Miller's interior landscaping.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE: The office of Stanley G. Petzel, president of Appliance Buyers Credit Corporation, looks through courtyard toward Whirlpool administrative building.

COMPUTER BANK: ABCC's computer center is supported by a Univac series 70-2, a third generation multi-processing computer. Center keeps track of operations at ABCC's 70 branches throughout country. (Staff photos by chief photographer Charles Zindler.)

SUN SCOOPS: This is rear view of a copper-sheathed sun scoop of which there are two on roof of Appliance Buyers Credit Corporation. Scoops capture sunlight to flood central part of building with natural light.

DATA ENTRY DEPARTMENT: ABCC's data entry department is equipped with a Cummins 4400 key to disc system which features latest techniques in preparing data for computers through video terminals.

Where's Owner Of Ticket?

LANSING — A winning lottery ticket purchased at a Sister Lakes store remains unclaimed, and could be worth between $10,000 and $300,000, state lottery officials report. The winning green ticket was purchased from Max's Party Port, M-152, Sister Lakes, and has a Dec. 12, 1974, drawing date with the winning numbers 350 and 175. The holder of the ticket is eligible for the weekly super drawing worth up to $200,000. Winning ticket holders have a year in which to turn in tickets and claim prize money.

Van Buren Fair Contest Set

LAWRENCE — The Van Buren Youth Fair royally contest will be held July 7 in the audio-visual room at the high school here, according to contest chairman, Mrs. Linda Koppers of Lawrence. Selected will be a youth fair king and queen (ages 14 - 18) and prince and princess (ages 10 - 13), she said. She said the contest is open to any youngster who has belonged to any youth organization in the county for three months. She said application blanks can be obtained from her and must be returned prior to June 8.

Dodgers Complete Four-Game Sweep Of Reds

Surprising Cubs Still Streaking

From Associated Press
While the National League was keeping a watchful eye on the rematch between the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds, two unheralded teams — the Atlanta Braves and Chicago Cubs — were putting on quite a show of their own this week.

The Dodgers, who dropped three in a row in Cincinnati last week, completed a four-game sweep of the Reds in Los Angeles Thursday, winning 3-4 on an 11th-inning error. That left them tied atop the NL West with the Braves, who won their third straight from Houston, 2-1 in 10 innings.

"We're playing good ball. We're going to make the Dodgers and Cincinnati take notice," warned Braves Manager Clyde King.

Meanwhile, the Cubs, who brought up the bottom of the East Division a year ago and were picked to repeat, ran their winning streak to six in a row following an opening - arm set-back, edging the Philadelphia Phillies 10-9.

"We know this pace is impossible to keep up," said Rick Monday, who drove in five runs with a homer, single and sacrifice fly. "But a lot of people had us buried before the opening of the season. I hope their shovels get rusty."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Montreal Expos beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-4 and the New York Mets trounced the St. Louis Cardinals 14-7. In the only American League action, the Texas Rangers trimmed the Chicago White Sox 7-3. The California-Minnesota game was rained out.

Carl Morton scattered nine hits for his third consecutive complete - game victory — he blanked Houston after the first inning — and scored the winning run on Mike Lum's two-out single in the 10th. Morton opened the 10th with a single off Dave Roberts and was sacrificed to second one out later. After an intentional walk to Darrell Evans, Lum delivered his game-winning hit. Jimmy Wynn raced home from second base on a two-out error by Cincinnati first baseman Dan Driessen in the 11th inning following a pair of two-out singles. Wynn started things by outlegging an infield hit down the third base line with two out off Clay Carroll. He moved to second on a single by Steve Garvey, who had five hits and whose two-out single in the bottom of the ninth tied the score. Willie Crawford's grounder then rolled through Driessen's legs, allowing Wynn to score an unearned run. Cincinnati appeared to have won the game in the ninth, when Cesar Geronimo's leadoff homer tied the game and Pete Rose sent the Reds ahead with a run - scoring single off Mike Marshall. Dave Concepcion homered earlier for the Reds. But the Dodgers tied it on singles by Dave Lopes, Manny Mota and Garvey.

Monday's three-run homer snapped a 2-2 tie in the fifth inning and the Cubs built a 10-4 bulge and held on behind the clutch relief pitching of Oscar Zamora. Pete LaCock also homered for the Cubs while Mike Schmidt connected for Philadelphia.

The Cubs salted the game away in the sixth, pounding Cy Acosta and Ron Schueler for five runs. The key blows were LaCock's homer, a two-run single by Bill Madlock and RBI singles by Monday and Jerry Morales.

Larry Parrish scored the tie-breaking run in the seventh inning on a wild relay throw by Rennie Stennett attempting to complete an inning - ending double play. Montreal then added five runs in the ninth.

Parrish singled to start the ninth - inning outburst, which included run-scoring doubles by Pete Mackanin and Jose Morales, an RBI single by Pepe Mangual and a two-run double by Mike Jorgensen. The Pirates roughed up winner Dave McNally for three runs in the bottom of the ninth, two on Willie Stargell's third homer.

Jack Heidemann's three-run double capped a tie - reaking five - run sixth inning. The Mets chased Lynn McGlothen during a six-run first but Ted Simmons' three-run homer highlighted a four-run St. Louis rally in the bottom of the first. Simmons added a solo homer in the fifth.

St. Louis' Ted Sizemore tied a major league record for second basemen by committing three errors in one inning as the Mets were hammering relievers Elias Sosa and Ray Sadecki during their winning burst.

Mike Hargrove doubled across two runs and Jim Spencer tripled home two more in a six-run fifth inning that helped Ferguson Jenkins win his first game in three starts. Hargrove doubled home another run in the ninth. Jenkins, who entered the game with a 10.38 earned run average, allowed seven hits and one run in 7 2/3 innings.

"It feels good to finally win that first one," said Jenkins, a 25-game winner last season. "I kept the ball down and didn't make any bad pitches."

Mikita Saves Black Hawks Overtime Goal Earns 5-4 Win Over Sabres

From Associated Press
The Chicago Black Hawks are back in business and veteran center Stan Mikita put them there.

"It was a tough game and both teams are tired," said Mikita Thursday night after his overtime goal lifted the Hawks over the Buffalo Sabres 5-4 in a National Hockey League playoff game.

"Only the team that wins isn't as mentally tired as the team that loses. So maybe that will work in our favor."

The victory was Chicago's first against two losses in the first round of seven quarterfinal series. The Hawks can get even with a win in game four Sunday night in Chicago.

Chicago, getting goals from Grant Mulvey, Ivan Boldirev and Dick Redmond, took a 3-2 lead after the first period. Rick Martin and Gil Perreault got the Buffalo tallies.

Buffalo's Don Luce and Chicago's Cliff Koroll exchanged second - period goals before the Sabres' Jim Schoenfeld connected on a power play midway through the final period to send it into overtime.

Mikita's winning goal came 2 1/2 minutes into the extra session and was on the rebound of a shot by Redmond.

"Redmond fired through two players and (Buffalo goalie Gerry) Desjardins got his stick on it," explained Mikita. "The puck came spinning to me. I banged at it and, luckily, it went in."

In Thursday night's other playoff action, Philadelphia blanked Toronto 2-0. Pittsburgh beat the New York Islanders 6-4 and Montreal dumped Vancouver 4-1. The Flyers and Penguins hold commanding 3-0 leads in their series while the Canadiens have a 2-1 edge.

Gary Dornhoefer scored early in the first period and Rick MacLeish connected early in the second for the Philadelphia goals. Bernie Parent turned away 31 shots in running his shutout string against Toronto to seven straight periods. The Flyers survived 10 minor penalties.

Bob Kelly scored a pair of goals as Pittsburgh built a 3-0 lead and held off a late New York challenge. Vic Hadfield and Syl Apps got clutch third - period goals for the winners, while Jude Drouin got a pair for the Islanders.

Jim Roberts, Bob Gainey and Jacques Lemaire scored second-period goals to break it open for Montreal. Guy Lafleur got the final goal for Montreal which outshot Vancouver 37-26. John Gould got the Canucks' goal.

New '500' Entry Is Mystery Car

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Another possibly revolutionary, but somewhat mysterious, entry has been received for the May 25 Indianapolis 500.

Parnelli Jones, a former winner now a car owner, entered late conventional Offenhauser-powered Eagles for previous champions Al Unser and Mario Andretti, but also added a noteworthy third entry.

It will be a new "Parnelli" chassis design and powered by a turbocharged Cosworth-Ford engine. The Cosworth power plants are on virtually all Formula 1 cars, but without the turbocharger.

BIRDIE SHOOTER: Andy North whoops it up after sinking birdie putt enroute to seven - under - par 65 in opening round of $125,000 Pensacola Open golf tournament Thursday. (AP Wirephoto)

North Enthused By Birdie Binge

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — "I've just been hoping to make pars the last couple of tournaments," said Andy North, who went on a birdie-scoring binge to take a one-shot lead in the $125,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament with a seven-under-par 64.

If North's track record holds in this tournament, he could be in excellent position to get his first victory in his third season on the tour.

"I've always played better in the last rounds," the former University of Florida star said Thursday. "All of my good checks have come when I've been shooting good in the third and fourth rounds."

The 34-30 over the par 35-36 - 71 Pensacola Country Club course gave North, whose best finish was a second at Houston last year, a one-shot edge over a quartet of players — Bruce Crampton, 1971 Masters champion Charles Coody, obscure Mike Wynn and Bert Greene, who has been sidelined for most of the past six months with a hand injury.

With 30 players breaking 70 in the opening round, it appeared it might take better than even par to survive today's cut when the field of 14 is trimmed to the lowest 70 scorers and ties.

Among those on the borderline at the start of the second round were South African Gary Player and Lee Elder, who won this event a year ago and thus became the first black man ever to play in the Masters.

Billy Casper had to settle for a par 71 while Great Britain's Peter Oosterhuis, who lost a playoff to Elder last year, was at 72.

Three shots away at 67 were Los Angeles Open winner Pat Fitzsimmons, veteran Miller Barber, Don Iverson, Sam Adams, and Bryan Abbott.

State Kegler Rolls 299 In ABC

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Bill Diedrich, 44, fell just one pin shy of being perfect in the American Bowling Congress tournament Thursday.

Diedrich, who does most of his bowling in Pontiac, Mich., although living in the suburbs, shot 299 in his final regular singles game on the way to a seventh place 712 series.

Only the toughest bit of bad luck prevented him from posting the tournament's second 300 game.

The first 300 game, also in singles, was registered by Asa Morris, St. Louis, March 3.

Diedrich carried two rather light hits during his string of 11 strikes, and his 12th delivery was on the same order. But this time the No. 5 pin, barely hit by the ball as it went through the setup, went in front of the No. 8, wiggled, but wouldn't go down.

His other games of 223 and 190 gave him that 712. He finished with 1,848 for his all-events. This was the 27th 299 in tournament history.

POST NEED SETTING?

Do it the easy way!

Use SAKRETE CONCRETE MIX to anchor wood or metal posts for outdoor lights, swings, gates or fences. It's a scientific blend of sand, gravel and cement. Just add water. No forms needed. So easy anyone can use it. At hardware, lumber and building supply dealers.

Insist on SAKRETE mix because:

- Electronic scales weigh each ingredient for each bag (so every bag is identical).
- Each bag is swirl mixed for uniformity. (Important if only part of bag is used.)
- Special bag keeps ingredients fresh for over a year without hardening.

Whip Lakeshore 8-5 To Retain Baseball Lead

Confident Comets Eye Bud Title

BY JIM DELAND
Sports Editor

Coloma has never won a Blossomland conference baseball championship, but don't try to tell the Comets it can't be done.

"The kids think they can win it, and that's half the battle," coach Bill Leedy said with a smile Thursday after his Comets had defeated arch-rival Lakeshore 8-5 to retain sole possession of first place in the Blossomland race.

"We have a veteran team — almost everybody's back from last year — and they seem to have matured over the summer. I just hope we can keep it going," Thursday's victory was hardly a classic, but the five-hit pitching of southpaw Dennis Reilly and a big third inning carried the undefeated Comets to their fourth league victory in an error-filled affair on the wind-whipped Lakeshore diamond.

Defending champion Brandywine (3-0) stayed hot on the Comets' heels by blanking Cas-

Lakers Post Fifth Victory

Who's going to stop Lake Michigan Catholic in the Red Arrow conference baseball race this season?

Maybe nobody.

"They're better than last year," Gallien coach Wyman Miller said Thursday after watching the Lakers thrash his Gaels 16-3 in five innings. "They're going to be tough to beat."

The victory gives coach Al Nixon's team a perfect 4-0 record in Red Arrow competition this season and runs their overall record to 5-0 for the year.

Richard Maxwell — a sophomore transfer student — pitched a four-hitter for the Lakers, striking out four and walking five. He also drove in three runs with a double and single.

The only other Laker with two hits was George Welch, who socked a double and single, but the team finished the day with 10 safeties and a sparkling .326 batting average.

Bears Dumped

KALAMAZOO — The St. Joseph netters were dumped 8-1 by Kalamazoo Central here Thursday and saw their record dip to 4-2 overall.

The Bears' No. 1 doubles pair of Tom Lannon and Jeff Baillif upped their season's mark to 8-0 with a 7-6, 6-1 win over Craig Becker and Greg Plano.

Miskill Hurls St. Joe Win

KALAMAZOO — St. Joseph got a sterling pitching effort from Jeff Miskill to win its Big Six conference opener over Loy Norrix here Thursday 3-1.

Miskill went the full seven innings for the Bears, notching six strikeouts and walking no one.

"Our pitchers haven't walked a man in our last two games," said a pleased St. Joe coach Dave Durr. Miskill's effort came one day after Eddie Owsianka won a game for St. Joe without handing out a free trip to first base.

The winners scored their three runs in the fifth inning. Mike Collier smacked a two RBI single sending Rick Dyer and Miskill scampering across home plate.

Roger Vogie then singled home Collier to give the Bears a 3-0 edge.

Tournaments Keeping Lanes Busy Bowling Season Not Over

By JERRY DYKSTRA
Staff Sports Writer

League bowling is rapidly drawing to a close.

But area leagues don't have to put away their bowling balls for the season.

Many area houses are holding various end-of-the-season tournaments in which a bowler can hit the jackpot and perhaps alone for a mediocre league season.

In addition to the house tournaments, two big state events are slated in the upcoming weeks. Gersonde's will host the Michigan Blind bowling tournament April 25, 26 and 27 and also the Michigan Handicap tournament May 8 and 9.

The blind tournament will draw about 300 to 350 bowlers from all around the lower peninsula, according to Bill Kissau, secretary of the local White Cane league, sponsors of the event.

The 18th annual tournament has three separate divisions: totally blind, partially blind and sighted.

The singles and doubles events will be held April 26 and the team event the following day. The local White Cane league will be the lone group to roll Friday night, April 25.

The White Cane league, the only such league in southwestern Michigan, has been operating here since 1960. Robert Mounsey serves as league president.

The state handicap tournament is being sponsored by the Southwestern Michigan Handicap Bowling Association. About 600 bowlers are expected to compete. Included are bowlers from Gardi School in St. Joseph, Gateway Center in Berrien Springs and Electric Light School in Niles.

All bowlers will toss just three games in the seventh annual state event.

Everett Martin of St. Joseph is in charge of the tourney.

Gersonde's will also host the Special Olympics bowlers from the area May 2.

Blossom Lanes is holding several special events in the next few weeks with a singles tourney starting Monday, and open to all area men and women bowlers. The singles go to April 30.

A Tournament of Champions and a Celler Dwellers tourney are also slated at Blossom but are limited to Blossom league bowlers only. The events will be held May 5 through 9.

The Roti Motors Doubles resume Saturdays at 4 and 6 p.m. at Blossom and continues through the summer. The jackpot is now $712. Red Pin Scotch Doubles starts May 2.

Almetta Leonard Wins In Singles

Almetta Leonard posted a 718 handicap (526 scratch) Thursday night to capture the singles event in the final night of bowling in the Southwestern Michigan Women's Bowling Association city tournament at Blossom Lanes.

Almetta ousted the previous leader, Debbie Glaske, who finished third with 688 (514). Taking over second place Thursday was Louise Davis with a 711 (558). Evelyn Keigley was fourth with 688 but her 582 scratch was high for the singles event. Evelyn was followed by Joan Haase 676 (544), Wilma Thomas 667 (499), Sandy Webb 666 (546), Shirley DeMorrow 663 (474), Janet Lambrecht 663 (548) and Annie Bell 661 (481).

Wilma Thomas had the high individual game in singles with 232 scratch. Low in the money in singles was 583.

Delores Boldt and Sharon Jones just held on to their doubles lead to finish as champs.

The pair rolled a 1393 handicap Tuesday night. Jeanne Leach

Gersonde's House Champion tournament is slated for April 28, 29 and 30. The team event is open to all league teams at Gersonde's.

The Mixed Doubles tournament continues until June 1 at Lakes Bowl in Sister Lakes. A 500-600 Club tourney is scheduled at Lakes next month. Wil-O-Paw Lanes has a record entry of 2,400 in its huge Doubles tourney which runs until May 11.

Ron Kelley of Coloma and Mike Muhlbradt of Benton Harbor are the current handicap doubles leaders with 2642. Two Hoosiers, Earl McDowell Jr. and John Fillwork, head the scratch list with 2586. Fred Martin of Lawton and John Cady of Gobles are second in scratch with 2514.

Bud Martin of Coloma has the tourney's high game of 258. Ruby Martin of Coloma is the women's singles leader with 1171 scratch and Roger Hoxie of Paw Paw the men's singles leader with 1331 scratch.

Although Ginny Essig and Charlotte Waaso came up with high individual series, the Heyn sisters as a team rolled a disappointing 2327 last week in the Women's International Bowling Congress tourney at Indianapolis.

"We were kinda disappointed with our team series, we thought we could do better," offered Millie Farris. "But Ginny and Charlotte did better the next day (Friday). The trip wasn't all in vain."

Ginny picked a perfect time to smash her first 600 of the season with a 616, good for second place in open division singles. Charlotte pitched series of 523 in team, 562 in doubles and 596 in singles for a 1981 open all-events total, which makes the top ten. The 586 is also in the top ten in open division singles.

Lorraine Waaso and Tootie Blosser also produced a 1081 doubles total, which may be worth some money.

The WIBC tourney opened April 3 and goes through May 22.

The Heyn sisters now will try their luck in the Women's State tournament May 10 and 11 at Lansing.

Sandra Wagoner stands fourth in handicap all-events in the Women's State tourney. Sandra, from Bangor, posted a 2022 total.

Split conversions this week included the 6-7-10 by Sharon Sears, John Nimtz and Marie Binger; the 6-7 by Wendy Carney, Shirley Williamsen, Horace Pilgrim and Erna Crawford; the 7-9 by Ray Norberg and the 4-7-9-10 by Keith Unger.

Bob Schinske earned a century patch for his 270 game, 112 pins over his average. Bob Kunst had a triplicate of 200 last week Thursday.

Redskins' Austin Fires One-Hitter

The first batter to face Paw Paw's Rod Austin got a hit in yesterday's Wolverine conference tussle between the Redskins and Plainwell.

But that was it as Austin bore down to hurl a one-hitter, propelling Paw Paw to a 1-0 victory.

In another Wolverine contest, Oscego slipped past South Haven 5-3.

Austin went the full seven innings for the Redskins, firing eight strikeouts. Terry Dehollander gave up three hits and two the loss. He had five strikeouts.

The lone Redskin run came in the fifth inning when Zane Silas doubled home Ron Williams from second base. Paw Paw runners reached third on two other occasions but failed to score.

Plainwell couldn't advance a runner past second base. Each team was guilty of one error.

Paw Paw is now 3-0 overall and 2-0 in the conference. Plainwell is 0-3 overall and 0-2 in the Wolverine conference.

Five Oscego runs in the third inning was the back-breaker for South Haven.

Mark Burger swatted a two RBI double in the third with the other runs coming after a Ram error and an Oscego single.

Kent Hendricks notched the mound victory for Oscego, going the full seven innings. He fanned two and walked five.

Dan Sherman gave up all six Oscego hits and the five runs. He worked five innings, before being replaced by Terry Marr and then Dave Gumpert.

South Haven out-hit this opponent seven to six, but scored the game's only three errors, nine base runners.

Collecting RBIs for South Haven were Al Watson, Ken Cullum and Steve Gaarde. Mike Sweet went two-for-four while Cullum was two-for-two with a double.

IHL Attendance Up This Season

DETROIT (AP) — Attendance at International Hockey League games in the 1974-75 regular season was up 157,628 from the previous season.

Commissioner Bill Beagan said the league entertained 1,257,329 fans in 398 games, compared with 1,100,391 in 342 contests a year ago.

The Saginaw Gears had the best attendance with 165,545. Toledo was second with 157,711, followed by Flint with 143,729.

Murray Flegel won the Governor's Trophy for the leading defenseman in the league.

Shamrocks Win

Berrien Springs downed River Valley in jayvee baseball Thursday 8-6.

Dave Smallman had nine strikeouts while notching the hurling win. Key hits for the victors were provided by Ron Herford and Doug Ewalt.

The more yard you put into garden, the more you need a Bolens tractor.

Bolens tractors have always taken big property in stride. Six models, from 10 hp to 19.5 hp, will groom lawns and cut rough lands with equal ease. And today, with gardens growing in size and number, the same Bolens tractors stay right on the job. Switch from center-mounted mower to rear-mounted rotary tiller in just minutes, and thoroughly mix and re-level a finished seedbed in one pass.

With Bolens tractors, you get more than just a choice of horsepower. You can choose hydrostatic or gear drive; hydraulic or manual attachment lift control; and dozens of optional attachments. From snowthrowers to sickle bars — from plows to post hole diggers. All this, plus an unflinching toughness that dates all the way back to the very first compact garden tractor. The versatile Bolens tractors. A good yard (and garden) ahead.

Tempers Hot As Warriors Top Sonics

SEATTLE (AP) — Golden State Coach Al Attles thinks a big reason why his Warriors defeated Seattle 105-86 Thursday night to take a 2-1 Western Conference semifinal playoff lead is because "our heads were more in the game tonight."

There nearly were fists in the game, too. Four fights almost erupted during the first 14 minutes of the National Basketball Association contest. Attles himself came off the bench to cool things off twice.

"I guess everybody was going to establish that no one was going to be pushed around," said Seattle Coach Bill Russell. He added dryly, "I guess we got that established."

The game's top scorer, Golden State's Rick Barry, who tossed in 33 points and added some key assists, said that after the fourth flare of tempers "everyone just settled down and started playing good basketball."

Attles, who used the word "intense" to describe the game between the two Pacific Division rivals, told reporters, "You think this game was something? Just wait until Saturday. That one ought to be a real barnburner."

Tonight's NBA action sees Washington at Buffalo in an Eastern Conference series which Washington leads 2-1 and Chicago at Kansas City-Omaha in a Western Conference game. The visiting Bulls hold a 2-1 edge in that series.

On Saturday, Boston, holding a 2-0 lead, is at Houston in an Eastern Conference game and the Warriors and Sonics clash again in Seattle.

The biggest eruption in the game came early in the second quarter when Calvin Skinner blocked a Clifford Ray jump shot but fouled him.

Ray took out after the rookie and before the Warrior center cooled down two referees, Attles and assistant Joe Roberts and at least one Warrior player had to restrain him. Skinner headed for the far end of the court while Ray was corralled. The officials called a time out and warned coaches that the next flare-up would result in ejections from the game.

Golden State led 29-28 at the end of the first quarter and led 52-50 at halftime. The lead was four points, 78-74, at the end of the third quarter.

Tommy Burleson led the Sonics with 25 points while Charley Johnson had 24 to trail Barry in the Golden State scoring.

Russell said, "We should have won this one ... in terms of team play, this was our worst effort in a month."

"We had the game at our pace and we had a nice thing going. With a couple of adjustments, we could have won it big."

Russell declined to spell out those adjustments, saying, "That's for the next game."

The Sonics knotted the score for the final time at 80-80 with two free throws by Fred Brown with 8:30 remaining. But Derrek Dickey stung the Sonics with two quick lay-ins on two beautiful assists from Barry to put the Warriors ahead to stay.

Archie Clark hit two consecutive jumpers to cut the deficit to 89-88 with 5:05 remaining, but the Warriors regained control and outscored Seattle 16-8 down the stretch for the nine-point victory.

Cards' Whitelaw 'Breezes' To Area-Best 100 Clocking

They say it's an ill-wind that blows no good, and Bob Whitelaw of Bloomington was the first to agree.

Added by strong winds that swept across southwestern Michigan Thursday, the Cardinal junior rocketed to a school record of 10 seconds flat in the 100-yard dash that stands as the fastest of the season — although probably with an asterisk — by an area high school runner.

Other outstanding performances Thursday saw Pam Mitchell of Dowagiac surpass the existing girls' state high jump record with a leap of five feet, six inches and Coloma's 400 relay team post the fastest area time of the year with a school record 45.7.

In Red Arrow dual meets Berrien Springs whipped Gallen despite a victory performance by the Gaels' Don Koo, Lake Michigan Catholic beat Bridgman 77-46 with the help of school records by Larry Wallace in the long jump and Mike DeFrancesco in the pole vault. Hartford downed Eau Claire with John Laman scoring a triple and Watervliet thumped New Buffalo with sophomore Chuck Brock posting three firsts.

Watervliet also beat Coloma despite the record 440 relay clocking by the Comet quartet of Gus Mendoza, John Mattson, Greg Dabicki and John Bertuca. Benton Harbor crushed Kalamazoo Hackett behind triple victories from Alex Williams and Maurice Burton. Lakeshore whipped Edwardsburg with Brad Peterson, Keith Arend and Tom Jager scoring doubles. Niles lost to South Bend Adams in a meet that went down to the final relay and Dave Congdon led Lawrence over Lawton.

Wallace had four firsts for Lake Michigan Catholic with good times in the 880 and 440 in addition to his 20-7 long jump while Don Skorpua was a triple winner for Bridgman and Mike Schaller ran a 10.3 in the 100.

New Buffalo's Steve Apple had good hurdle times of 15.7 and 21.3 in another triple victory effort while Don McAtee, Taylor Lanier and Tony Gonzales were

Youth Golf Classic Registration Opens

Registration is now underway for the local Insurance Youth Classic golf tournament, which will be held June 16 at Berrien Hills Country Club.

All amateur golfers in this area who will not have reached their 18th birthday by August 13 are eligible to enter the tournament, which is sponsored by the Twin City Association of Independent Insurance Agents.

Low scorers from the local tournament will qualify for the state tournament, which will be held July 20-21 at the Forest Akers golf course in East Lansing. The top state performers will advance to the national tournament at the Eisenhower golf course on the U.S. Air Force Academy campus near Colorado Springs.

Golfers from this area desiring to play in the tournament may obtain an entry blank from any Big 1 Independent Agent, from high school golf coaches or at one of the area golf courses. A $3.00 entry fee must accompany the application.

Entry deadline is June 1. The 150 golfers who qualify for the national tournament

Cherry Growers Vote To Jump Tax 50%

Michigan cherry growers who voted in a referendum have approved a 50 per cent hike in the cherry tax, B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, announced this week.

The approval means that this year the tax on tarts will increase from the present $2.50 a ton to $3.75. The sweet cherry tax goes from $2 a ton to $3 while the juice assessment remains unchanged at $1.25 a ton.

The department reports that 596 growers favored the increase while 403 registered opposition. "Yes" votes represented 69 per cent of the tonnage of voters while "No" votes were cast by growers controlling 31 per cent of the tonnage. A total of 999 votes were cast.

According to Robert Frohling the tax assessment is deducted from the money paid to growers by processors. Processors sent the money to the Michigan Cherry Committee, to which Frohling belongs. The committee then contracts with two other groups for promotion, research and marketing. Those groups are the National Red Cherry Institute and the Michigan Association of Cherry Producers.

Frohling says that in 1974 the committee collected $240,000 from tart cherry growers and $50,000 from growers of sweet cherries. Only processed cherries are taxed.

Grocers Blamed For Slow Demand

8 Million Pounds Of 'Gras May Go Unharvested

By NICK SMITH
Staff Writer

"At least eight million pounds of Michigan asparagus, or over 30 per cent of the 1975 Michigan crop, may go unharvested because of a lack of demand," says Harry Foster manager of the Michigan Asparagus Growers.

Grocers, not processors, are responsible for the lack of demand, Foster charged yesterday. While processors "slashed their prices down to the bone" last winter, that price reduction on canned 'gras is "still not evident on the market shelf."

Current supermarket prices on asparagus are "absolutely ridiculous," he said. Foster is manager of the association which is the accredited bargaining agent for commercial asparagus growers.

According to Foster, processors packed a total of 22.3 million pounds of 'gras last year and all indicate that they will be packing only 50 to 60 per cent of last year's figure.

On the other hand, Foster figures that this year's crop could be larger than last year's. Taking into account intended acreage of 17,900 acres, and last year's average yield of 1,500 pounds per acre, Foster estimates that this year's crop could be 26.7 million pounds.

Of that nearly 27 million pounds, Foster thinks processors will pack 18 to 19 million pounds. "These are the hard facts which the Michigan Asparagus Growers and processors are faced with this year," he says.

The asparagus marketing period begins this Wednesday and, so far, the Growers haven't signed any contracts with processors.

The Grower's marketing committee is recommending a price this year of 24 cents a pound, Foster says, for 'gras up to nine inches in length. The excess over nine inches and trash are considered dockage.

The committee also recommends that certain factors be considered for rejection of a load. Four factors of rejection would be more than 10 per cent of the spears over nine inches; more than 10 per cent under-sized, that is spears which measure less than 1/4-inch two inches below the tip; more than two per cent of the spears infected with beetle eggs; more than 15 per cent of the spears docked due to any factors.

The marketing committee has decided that quantity of deliveries will not be a contract issue, Foster said. That is, processors who sign contracts will not be obligated to buy only from the larger growers, thereby freezing out the smaller growers.

In the bargaining unit are those who, in 1973 or 1974, delivered 'gras either worth more than $3,450 or weighing over 12,825.

Adding interest to this year's asparagus negotiations is the fact that 10 of the state's canners, who packed about 75 per cent of last year's crop, have said they won't purchase 'gras from members of the Asparagus Growers bargaining unit.

Foster said that currently he is contacting the 10 processors, to learn if they really intend to follow through with their announcements. "Some of them are interested" in buying 'gras from bargaining unit members, Foster said.

Some of the packers still in the running — those who intend to purchase 'gras from the large commercial growers — indicate that they might pay 24 cents a pound this year for the commodity, Foster said. Last year 'gras brought growers 32 cents a pound.

If a price settlement is not reached by Wednesday, the matter will be decided by a 3-man arbitration panel, as it was last year.

The 10 processors who have said they won't buy 'gras from bargaining unit members can still change their minds and get back into the market, with the permission of the Asparagus Growers, according to Thomas Moore, administrator of the Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining board.

Those processors are:

Eau Claire; Burnette Farms, Keeler; Stokley Van Camp, which has a receiving station in Shelby; Sherman Brothers, from the Hart/Shelby area; Oceana Canning; Plainwell Canning; New Era; Honee Bear, Lawton; Traverse City; Fruit Belt, Paw Paw.

Reaction To Court Ruling

Selling Tarts Without Benefit Of Ag. Law

Tart cherry growers could lose some bargaining clout this year because of a recent court decision. But Harry Foster says that tart growers will be adequately represented during price negotiations.

Foster, secretary of fruit and vegetable divisions of the Michigan Agricultural Cooperative marketing association (MACMA), is hopeful that tart growers will get a good price this year despite the court's ruling.

Last week the Michigan Court of Appeals stayed the accreditation of the Red Tart Cherry Growers, a bargaining agent which spoke for some 1,400 of the state's commercial growers.

The action means that growers and processors will act as if the accreditation never occurred.

Last year the Red Tart Cherry Growers was accredited. Then the Michigan Canners and Freezers association and Roy Dukeshner, of Benton township, filed suit claiming that the state's Administrative Procedures Act wasn't followed during the accreditation hearings.

Plaintiffs sought permission in court to appeal the accreditation. This permission was given last week, along with the order that stayed the bargaining agent's activities.

Defendants in the suit are MACMA Red Tart Cherry

Growers and the Michigan Agricultural Marketing and Bargaining board, which administers the contested law.

Also involved in the decision was a similar suit filed by Orelia, Inc., dealing with the accreditation of the Processing Potato Growers. That bargaining agent was also put out of business temporarily by the court.

Still in existence, however, is the MACMA Red Tart Cherry division, a voluntary association of some 840 growers.

The MACMA market men now speak for 840, rather than for 1,400, tart growers. In Foster's words "the figure is significant in terms of having bargaining power."

As Foster sees it the accreditation of the Red Tart Cherry Growers was only one of several reasons why processors paid a "good price" last year. The age-old supply and demand formula was at work. There was good processor demand and growers had a good crop.

"The cherry market at the moment is not quite as strong as we'd like to see it," Foster said, attributing the market's weakness to the fact that tarts processed last year are being sold for too high a price.

But Foster is hopeful that current stocks of tarts will begin moving faster. The price of sugar is coming down and pie makers might consider buying more tarts this year, he says optimistically.

James Friday

The Michigan Peach Sponsors wants more dues-paying members so it can sponsor more research and marketing programs, says James Friday, new president of the body.

The Sponsors is a voluntary group operated for the Michigan peach industry by a board of over 40 growers, handlers, researchers and extension agents. It is financed by contributions from growers and from agri-business firms, Friday says.

It is suggested that growers contribute a minimum donation of $5 plus $1 for each acre of peaches grown.

"Participation by growers has not been complete enough to accomplish all the things that Michigan Peach Sponsors would like to do," Friday said recently. The Coloma grower raises some 75 acres of peaches. Friday listed some past activities of the group, including:

- Financial support of, and representation to, the National Peach Council, which nearly drains the treasury of the group.

- Sponsoring grower education meetings such as tomorrow's peach pruning meeting scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. in Barden Brothers Orchards, five miles north of South Haven. These meetings are also sponsored by the extension service, he added. Other meetings include two last summer at the South Haven Experiment station and at Hilltop Orchards.
- Assisting Dr. Robert Andersen, of the South Haven station, with variety evaluations. When Andersen has a variety which looks promising, the Sponsors will run variety trials at their farms.

Friday added that the group is interested in a meeting being planned for later this year. Northern Indiana peach growers, all of whom have already lost this year's crop, are in bad straits in terms of operating their roadside markets this summer. Arrangements might be made to ship some Michigan peaches down to them.

"This would be good for us and good for them," Friday commented.

And the Sponsors would like to do more promotion of Michigan peaches.

Membership can be obtained by sending a donation to Karl Barden, treasurer, Route 2, South Haven.

Fungus Disease Breakthrough Noted

A new way to identify key compounds and biochemical reactions that give plants their natural resistance to fungus diseases has been discovered by a United States Department of Agriculture scientist in Beltsville, Md.

The findings could be useful in programs to develop plants with greater resistance to fungus diseases. In Southwestern Michigan the control of these diseases is quite expensive. Apple scab, tomato early blight, leaf spot in cherries and black spot on roses are but a few of the common fungus diseases in this area, Berrien Extension Agent James Neibauer reports.

As part of a program to attack this problem, Dr. David L. Gustine, a plant physiologist with USDA's Agricultural Research Service, developed an experimental system that induces certain plant tissues to produce compounds called phytoalexins, which are toxic to fungi.

His discovery of several key compounds thought to be responsible for plant resistance to fungi was made possible by a unique use of a standard method of growing plant tissues in the laboratory.

Taking alfalfa and jackbeans, Dr. Gustine removed the callus — the soft, tan-colored tissue that forms over a wound or cut on a stem. This callus was inoculated with spores of a fungus that can attack alfalfa, red clover, cucumbers and tomatoes.

In response, the inoculated callus produced compounds thought to be toxic to fungus. These compounds were not found in the uninoculated callus.

To show their effectiveness he extracted the toxic compounds and put small amounts in dishes along with a fungus that causes tomato leaf mold. After three days the mold covered the dishes except in spots treated with the callus compounds.

Bertuca Expanding Texas Firm

Teddy Bertuca, who has been buying fruit at the Benton Harbor cash market for some 35 years, recently broke ground in McAllen, Texas, for a 40,000 square-foot expansion of his McAllen produce firm.

Bertuca spends winters in Texas and returns to the Twin Cities, which he still calls home, each spring. Bertuca began his career as a truck driver.

Tart Survey Planned

The Michigan Crop Reporting Service is laying the groundwork to conduct a cherry objective yield survey again this year. This will be the fourth straight year that the service has attempted to estimate the state's tart crop.

The service will be shooting to improve on last year's mid-June estimate, which was three percent below actual cherry production. The service will randomly select 300 sample blocks of tart cherry trees from a list compiled by the Cherry Administrative board.

Growers whose blocks have been selected will be told soon. From each of the 300 blocks, three trees are chosen. During the spring and summer bloom and cherry counts, weights of cherries and other measurements are made on each of these 900 trees.

Then the data is used to figure the average production per tree in each of the three major tart producing areas in Michigan. Average production per tree will then be multiplied by the state's 3,300,000 bearing trees. This year's estimate will be released June 23.

IDEAS SPREAD

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Hedging will put new life in old, large declined walnut trees. It has been shown in studies here. The major drawback to this method has been the prohibitive costs of hand labor where workers will go in and make in excess of 150 cuts on wood an inch or less in diameter. Now a $100,000 hedger-topper has been invented that can trim trees to a height of 40 feet. At a recent demonstration the hedger topped trees at a speed of four inches an hour. At that rate 50 acres of trees could be trimmed each day.

Land Purchase Talks To Start

LANSING — Preliminary interviews leading to the purchase of additional right-of-way for reconstruction of the I-94 interchange with Lakeshore drive south of St. Joseph will begin next week, the Department of State Highways and Transportation said.

Thirty parcels of property — 11 commercial and 19 residential — are needed for construction of a full interchange to provide freeway exits and entrances for traffic in both directions.

The present interchange, completed in 1962, allows only eastbound I-94 traffic to exit at Lakeshore drive; and entrance to I-94 for only westbound traffic.

Negotiations for purchase of the needed right-of-way are scheduled to be completed as soon as possible. Start of construction is scheduled for mid-1977. Estimated construction cost, not including right-of-way acquisition of preliminary engineering, is $12.2 million.

Department right-of-way agents will be making personal visits to owner-occupants and

Kennedy Bill Would License Pistol Owners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward Kennedy introduced federal gun control legislation Thursday that he described as moderate, saying it should be supported by the National Rifle Association before there was a move for more stringent firearms restrictions.

The legislation, cosponsored by Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., called for federal licensing of handgun owners and registration of their weapons. Kennedy predicted the legislation had a good chance of Senate passage.

The Massachusetts Democrat said he decided not to support stronger gun legislation this session as he has in the past "because I'm tired of getting six to eight votes on the floor of the Senate. I want to get 51 and I think we can get it with this legislation."

tenant-occupants of the 39 parcels of property needed. The department emphasized that relocation assistance for displaced occupants is based on occupancy of the property at time of purchase negotiations. A broad range of benefits up to $15,000 over the fair market value of property purchased is available to displace occupants. The additional benefits include moving expenses, higher costs for replacement housing, higher mortgage interest costs and higher rental costs.

Victor H. Eichhorn, chief right-of-way officer for the Highways and Transportation Department, said federal laws require ample assistance for persons forced to relocate due to highway construction projects.

He said a department right-of-way agent will visit personally every owner-occupant and tenant-occupant in the I-94-Lake Shore drive interchange project area to explain benefits of the relocation program.

"Our relocation assistance representatives not only are experts on the legal and technical aspects of the program, they also are dedicated to the principles and practicalities of service to all persons forced to relocate due to this project," Eichhorn said.

New Consumers President Has Had Busy Life

John D. Selby, new president, chief operating officer and member of the board of Consumers Power Co., has packed what seems like several careers into his 53 years.

Selected for the top Consumers slot on Feb. 21, he officially took office April 1.

He was chosen, according to a company spokesman at the firm's Jackson, Mich., headquarters, because of his background in nuclear and electronics engineering and wide experience in many related fields.

His wife is the former Marion Elizabeth Harrison of Holland. They were married in 1944 and have four children.

Selby was graduated from Iowa State university with a degree in general engineering, studied advanced management at Harvard Business School, served as a Naval aviator in World War II, and joined General Electric in 1948.

He came to GE as a test engineer and spent 28 years there in various executive capacities, including:

— Chief electrical and mechanical systems engineer on the advanced submarine reactor project at the Knolls atomic power laboratory.

— Appointed manager of that project in 1958.

— Named manager of the natural circulation reactor project, directing preliminary design and development of this new propulsion system concept.

— Transferred in 1961 to GE's missile and space vehicle department as manager of communications satellite programs.

— Named manager of engineering, spacecraft department, in 1964.

— Transferred in 1965 to the light military electronics department as manager of engineering.

After three more managements, Selby returned to the nuclear field as deputy division manager of the nuclear energy division in 1971.

He holds a number of patents in fluid heat exchange equipment and power generation systems, and is the author of an authoritative paper on the economics of nuclear power.

Fed To Release Interest Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board will make public regularly bank interest-rate information that sparked an FBI investigation when the data was leaked to Consumer Reports.

The Fed agreed in an April 14 letter to terms of a compromise offered by Consumers Union, which owns Consumer Reports.

System 'Wrong'

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—A legislator says reports Indiana wants some of its welfare recipients to come to Michigan prove something is wrong with the welfare system. Rep. Paul Rosenbaum, D-Battle Creek, made the comment Wednesday while speaking to a civic club. His comments came after he said the chief abuses in Michigan's welfare system involve recipients of Aid to Dependent Children. "I was particularly interested in reading an account that the Department of Social Services in Indiana is suggesting their welfare recipients on ADC come to Michigan because this was the Promised Land," Rosenbaum said. "It concerns me greatly to see an arm of the state government in another state telling their welfare recipients to come to Michigan because this is the Promised Land...When that happens something is vitally wrong with the system in Michigan for another state to say come here, this is the place to go."

NEWS OF MARKETS

Stocks Go Into Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed lower today as the profit-taking wave begun mid-day. Thursday continued to erode recent gains.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down more than a point shortly after the opening bell and declines pulled ahead of advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the primary reason for the market's decline is investors selling off stocks for profit after the market's 76-point, eight-session winning streak.

They said there was also some disappointment that no big bank cut its prime rate today from the current 7 1/2 per cent low.

Early prices on the Big Board included Olin Corp., off 3/4 to 22 1/4, American Telephone & Telegraph, down 1/4 to 45 1/2 and St. Regis Paper, 1/2 lower to 27.

Union Carbide slipped 1/2 to 62 1/2 and Westinghouse Electric rose 1/4 to 14 1/4.

On Thursday, the market advanced in heavy trading despite government reports of a sharp drop in the gross national product during the first quarter.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which bulged up more than 13 points at mid-day, pulled back to 819.46, a gain of 3.75 for the day.

Stock sales totaled 32.65 million shares, the third busiest day on record at the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the low GNP figures were disregarded by investors who are concentrating more on the reduced inventories and lower inflation rate in the economy.

Man Denies Zoning Violation

A man pleaded innocent Thursday in Berrien District court to a charge of operating a salvage yard in Lake township without obtaining a special permit.

Freed on $500 personal recognizance bond following arraignment was Frank Zuhl Jr., 48, of 4690 Ridge road, Stevensville. The complaint that Zuhl's business is a zoning violation came from Lake Township Supervisor Wade Shuler, according to the warrant.

Township Atty. John Spielman said that the alleged salvage yard is located south of Bridgman on Red Arrow highway. Zuhl's wife says that her husband's business is "Zuhl's Excavating."

Earnings Off 12.5%

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Consumers Power Co. said Thursday its net earnings for the year ended March 31 fell 12.5 per cent from the year before even though revenues rose 20 per cent.

The company, Michigan's second largest electric utility, said net earnings were $66.3 million, or $1.52 a share, compared with $75.8 million, or $2.12 a share, for the same year ago 12-month period.

Revenues for the year ended March 31 were $1.22 billion, compared with $877 million for the 12 months ended March 31, 1974.

Consumers said year before earnings were increased an additional 50 cents a share because of an accounting method change on years prior to 1974.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

YOUR TAX REBATE

Example (1): You are single, had an adjusted gross income of $10,000 in 1974 on which you paid a federal income tax of $1,525. You'll soon get a rebate under the tax reduction law of $152.50.

Example (2): You are married, both over 65, had an adjusted gross income of $6,300 in 1974 and paid a tax of $302. You'll get the minimum rebate of $100.

Example (3): You both work and file a joint return. You have seven children, all dependent, and had an AGI of $32,000 last year on which you paid a tax of $4,380. You too will get the minimum $100 rebate.

Example (4): You both work and file a joint return. You have no children, had a 1974 AGI of $15,300 and a tax bill of $2,260. You're in line for the maximum $200 rebate.

Example (5): You're a widower with a small child. In '74 your AGI was $22,000 and your tax bill, $3,540. You must reduce your possible $200 by $2,000 - $10,000 or 20 per cent, of the $100 that exceeds the minimum. So your rebate is $180.

Example (6): You're retired and over 65, had an AGI of $24,000 in 1974. Very heavy medical expenses reduced your tax bill to $1,800. Your potential rebate of $180 also must be reduced by the proportion of $4,000 to $10,000 times the $80 in excess of the $100 minimum. Since 40 per cent of $80 is $32, your rebate will be $148.

Example (7): You're both over 65, had a 1974 AGI of $35,000 and a tax bill of $85. Your rebate will be $95, the actual tax you paid.

The most widely publicized feature of the new 1975 tax law is the rebate of 10 per cent of your '74 tax liabilities which it gives individual taxpayers within certain limits. With two exceptions eligible taxpayers get a refund between $100 and $200. The refund system, Prentice-Hall explains in a privately circulated letter to subscribers, works like this:

— $100 to taxpayers with bills between $100 and $1,000.
— Ten per cent of liability if your tax liabilities exceed $1,000, up to a maximum rebate of $200, with a phase-out if your adjusted AGI exceeds $20,000.

— Full tax refund for taxpayers with tax bills of less than $100. This is the first exception to the $100 minimum refund.

There's a phaseout of the rebate if your AGI was more than $20,000 — and if your adjusted gross income was $30,000

Truck Firm Has Six More Weeks

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Diamond Reo Truck Co., the nation's 10th largest truck maker, apparently has another six weeks to find more money while maintaining limited operations.

The financially troubled firm has until May 31 under an agreement concluded Wednesday. The complex pact was reached in U.S. Bankruptcy Court between attorneys for the firm and representatives of unsecured creditors Diamond Reo owes $25 million.

But even that pact may be in jeopardy if U.S. Bankruptcy Court Judge Edward Benson rules in a May 2 hearing that land and stock pledged Wednesday is too little to cover an $800,000 operating bond.

The agreement gave creditors a first mortgage on 5,600 acres near Clare, a third mortgage on 12,000 acres in Nevada and rights to 500,000 shares of stock.

Both the land and stock are owned by F.L. Cappert of Vicksburg, Miss. Cappert bought Diamond Reo in 1971 for about $16 million.

The stock is in another Cappert enterprise, Elpac Inc. That company, among its other business, does offshore oil drilling.

If the value of land and stock is judged sufficient, Diamond Reo can keep working until May 31 when it again must prove to the court it has enough cash to keep going.

Diamond Reo expects to lose about $1.1 million by operating during April and May, according to Norman Nachman, one of the firm's attorneys. It lost $3.3 million between December, when the firm filed for reorganization, and March 31.

In its limited operations, the company may sell up to $400,000 worth of parts per month and finish assembling partially completed trucks. Only a few of its nearly 1,800 workers are involved.

Diamond Reo listed debts of more than $40 million and assets of $32.2 million in its petition for reorganization.

Milliken Tax Plan Hailed By Bankers

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The tax bills of some banks could be cut in half by Gov. William Milliken's business tax proposal, but companies with large labor forces would suffer, representatives of those businesses say.

"Sure we support the business tax package; taxes could go down as much as 50 per cent in some instances because we wouldn't have to pay any intangibles tax on deposits," Charles R. Chandler, administrative vice president of the Michigan Bankers Association, said Thursday.

The intangibles tax on bank deposits and loans brings the state $40 million a year in revenue.

Chandler's comments followed a House Taxation Committee hearing and were in sharp contrast to those of construction contractors. They said their tax bills could quadruple under the Milliken plan.

The tax package to revise business taxation proposes a 2 per cent levy on payrolls, and construction companies have big payrolls.

"It discriminates against firms with a big labor force, like construction companies," said John A. Doherty Jr., executive director of the Associated Builders and Contractors.

For example, said Doherty, a 2 per cent tax on the profits and payrolls of one masonry contractor last year would have amounted to $12,560. That's more than four times the size of the $2,600 tax bill the company paid under the current structure.

The program would replace eight taxes with one levy on profits and payrolls. It is designed to bring the state $800 million a year starting next January, the same amount provide by the other eight levies.

Dow Says Earnings Are Up 51%

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. reported today its net earnings in the first quarter of the year rose 51 per cent over the same 1974 period to $126 million, or $1.36 a share.

But Dow said it does not expect to show the same percentage improvement in earnings for the rest of the year.

The huge chemical firm reported sales in the January-March period were $1.14 billion, up 12 per cent over $1.02 billion for the first quarter of 1974.

Dow earned $44 million, or 91 cents a share, in last year's first quarter.

The company said current-year net income benefited from a profit of $20.5 million, or 22 cents a share, on sales of investments in several unconsolidated foreign companies.

"Demand for many Dow products has decreased due to the worldwide weakness in economic conditions," said Paul Orefice, financial vice president.

"And while we are seeing improvement in some areas, I would not expect results in the second quarter to reach the very high level achieved last year," he added.

Orefice said the company still anticipates a 10 per cent improvement in earnings for the entire year.

Arrested, On Warrant

Berrien Metro Crime officers arrested a Benton Harbor man yesterday on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property.

Booked and lodged at the county jail was Oscar (Baby) Jones, 25, of 661 Pavone street. Jones was arrested by Metro officers after a warrant was issued Thursday.

Metro officers said Jones was arrested at about 4 p.m. when a car was stopped at Napier avenue and Broadway Fairplain.

Metro officers said Jones was named in a warrant stemming from a burglary at 2585 East Empire avenue, Benton township, on March 31.

INK PACT: Three southwestern Michigan savings and loan associations have formed data service corporation, Dynacomp, to provide accounting information through management facility arrangement with SJV Data Service, Inc., Elkhart, Ind. Signing agreement is Robert Bean, president of First Federal Savings and Loan association, Niles. Next to him is J.B. Mikel, president of Three Rivers Savings and Loan association. Standing, from left to right, are: Hal Palmer, president of First Savings and Loan association of Dowagiac; John Scheets, president of SJV Data Service; and Donald Hild, director of savings and loan processing for SJV Data Service.

SJ Man Named Director By Elkhart Data Service

Donald J. Hild, of 520 Archer avenue, St. Joseph, has been appointed a director of SJV Data Service, Inc., Elkhart, Ind., a data processing firm that will provide computer services for a corporation recently formed by three southwestern Michigan savings and loan associations.

The data service corporation, Dynacomp, Inc., is jointly owned by the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Niles, the Three Rivers Savings and Loan association and the First Savings and Loan association of Dowagiac.

SJV is to provide the management facility for Dynacomp through which the computer services will be supplied the three savings and loan associations, according to an SJV announcement. Full computer services for on-line savings and loan accounting are expected to be available early this fall, according to John R. Scheets, president of SJV Data Service.

As an SJV director, Hild will supervise the Dynacomp operation, the company announcement said.

Each savings and loan association will retain control over its individual accounting and processing systems to the terminal level of the data processing systems. Dynacomp will own the data processing software system and will provide on-line capabilities for savings and mortgage accounting to its members.

The data will be stored in Elkhart. Hild received a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Notre Dame in 1968. He and his wife, Carol, are the parents of a son.

House Job Leads To Lawsuit

A Summit, Ill., couple has filed suit in Berrien circuit court against a Niles firm for $70,989 as an outgrowth of a house reconstruction and remodeling job in Dunewood subdivision, Covert township.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Leiko, owners of the home, filed suit against Logar Enterprises, Inc., of Niles, and Peter Logabo and Joseph Garritano as guarantors.

The couple stated they agreed under contract to pay Logar $45,600 and have paid it $48,000, plus another $4,989 paid to other parties for work on the house. They alleged Logar failed to complete the work as agreed, used inferior materials and workmanship and left the couple in an unfinished home when the firm left the job site last July 1. They claim it was necessary to repair and replace defective workmanship and construction and to replace defective materials and fixtures.

$123 Taken From Office

COLOMA — Coloma township police said Dr. Ronald A. Karpanty, a Coloma dentist, reported yesterday that $123 was taken from his office at the Tala Medical and Professional building. The theft is believed to have occurred sometime Wednesday, township police said.

NEW BUFFALO — Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Cleary, 705 West Buffalo street, New Buffalo, are the parents of a boy born April 14 at St. Anthony hospital, Michigan City, Ind.

Volunteers Needed To Work On Fairgrounds Buildings

Volunteers are needed again this Saturday to continue work on two commercial buildings being constructed at the Berrien county fairgrounds in Berrien Springs, according to Mrs. Barbara Kohn, secretary of the Youth Fair board. Workers will be nailing tarpaper and shingles on the roof of one of the buildings, she said. Work will begin at 9 a.m., weather permitting, and continue all day. Free lunch will be served to the workers, she said. Volunteers should bring hammers, a nail apron and a healthy respect for heights.

The silver models will represent about 10 per cent of Seville's total production planned for this model year.

Berrien Court Sentences Fifteen

Two persons demanded preliminary examinations and 15 were sentenced Thursday in Berrien County Circuit Court.

Demanding examinations were: Jimmy Doss, 19, of 333 Lincoln, Benton Harbor, on a charge of armed robbery at Ron's Party store, Benton Harbor, March 7. He was jailed in lieu of $15,000 bond.

Debra Ann Fuller, 20, of Bernard street, Hartford, charged with possession of another person's credit card April 18 in Bainbridge township. She posted $1,500 bond and was released.

Sentenced were: Bobby Lee Vermilyer, 19, of DeWitt road, Coloma, one day in jail, fine and costs of $100, one year probation and restitution of $77.59 for malicious destruction to property, the windshield of a motorhome, Nov. 26 in Coloma township.

Martin K. Ragsdale, 20, of Kerkikowske road, Coloma, 19 days in jail for assault and battery against Patricia Timmons March 27 in Coloma.

Charles F. Quigg, 25, of 50th street, Bangor, 341 for creating a disturbance at the Lakeshore tavern, Coloma township, Sept. 1, 1974.

Richard A. Leach, 17, of 715 Ogden, Benton Harbor, 3121 or 30 days in jail for receiving and concealing stolen property, a bicycle, April 16 at Benton Harbor high school.

Chris King, Jr., 26, of Lansing, 90 days in jail for use of marijuana April 2 in Coloma township.

Sentenced for the following violations were:

Petty larceny — Carolyn Brock, 21, of 473 John, Benton Harbor, 121; Peggy Ann Penley, 19, of Harbert road, Harbert, 121; Billy A. Berryhill, 20, and Larry Raymond, 24, both of Love Estates, Eau Claire, 121 or 30 days in jail each.

Snow, 18, of Lake Michigan Beach, three days in jail and $61, or 15 days in jail total.

Paw Paw Man Asks Hearing

PAW PAW — Douglas S. Garvelink, 23, route 1, South LaGrave, Paw Paw, demanded a preliminary examination on a charge of possession of marijuana, second offense, when arraigned yesterday in Seventh district court.

Garvelink was arrested early yesterday morning by Paw Paw police following a complaint of a prowler at an East Michigan avenue apartment building. Police said a search of a man found inside the building turned up a bag of a substance believed to be marijuana.

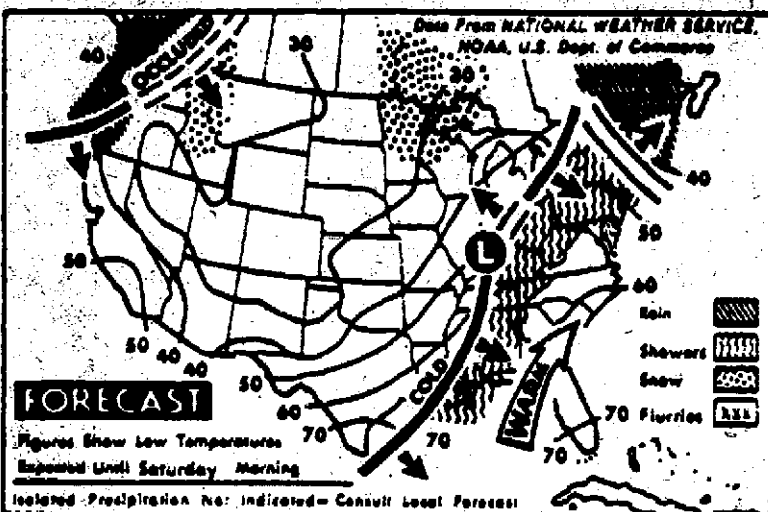

Preliminary examination for Garvelink was scheduled for April 29. He was lodged in the Van Buren county jail in lieu of $2,500 bond.

Ex-BH Man Faces New Sentence

Robert Lee Norwood, 29, a former Benton Harbor resident whose home, is in Flint, was found guilty in Berrien circuit court Thursday of obtaining over $100 worth of merchandise from a St. Joseph store under false pretenses.

A jury in the court of Judge Chester J. Byrns deliberated 30 minutes to return the verdict. Norwood, currently doing one year in the Berrien county jail for parole violation, faces a maximum sentence of 10 years for yesterday's conviction.

He was accused of giving the name of another person to open an account at the Heritage shop in St. Joseph and obtain over $100 worth of clothing and a watch.

TODAY'S WEATHER MAP: Showers are forecast today from the central Gulf to the Northeast. Snow is forecast for the northern parts of Minnesota and Wisconsin. Rain is forecast for central regions of the Pacific Northwest with snow expected for the northern Rockies. Seasonably warm weather is forecast for the East. (AP Wirephoto)

Students Hunt For Area Homes

KALAMAZOO — A foreign student exchange program is seeking host families in Berrien and Van Buren counties, according to a program spokesman.

Wendell R. Stribley, Kalamazoo, said an estimated 2,300 students from Europe, South America and the Far East will begin arriving in this country in the fall.

They will attend American schools and live with American host families as part of the Youth for Understanding exchange program.

Stribley said Berrien or Van Buren county families interested in becoming a host family should contact him at 1787 North 10th street, Kalamazoo.

'I'm Still Just A Tomboy At Heart'

"I still long to play in a Western where I get to ride a horse at breakneck speed and shoot a gun."
 Lee Meriwether, who plays Buddy Ebsen's assistant in the detective series "Barnaby Jones," has played a variety of roles in real life. This week she talks with Family Weekly about how her reign as Miss America shaped her future, her lifelong ambition to work for the FBI (which culminated in a meeting with the late J. Edgar Hoover), and why her early movie idols were cowboys, not the leading female stars. Find out why Lee feels so strongly about astrology and how those beliefs have affected the way she acts towards others. Read why Lee still plays the tomboy so convincingly.
 This interesting look into the life of the former Beauty Queen is in Family Weekly, a regular Saturday supplement of this newspaper.

SMATTERING OF SIGNS: SAGITTARIANS are apt to be too outspoken and, at times, brutally frank. The average GEMINIAN does not like to make long-range travel plans — would prefer to take off on the spur of the moment. The CAPRICORN native is more than loyal to family and friends. Thus far, Roseland has hosted 36 million happy patrons — a real attendance record! Cleavon Little of "All Over Town" wanted to join an organization that fights inflation — but "They raised their dues!" Faded Phrases: "I have a trade-last for you," "He's off his trolley" and "I'm worn to a frazzle." Sign on a Hollywood front gate: "Beware of owner. Never mind the dog!" Sign on TV-executive John Charnay's desk: "Beware of ambition. It can get you into an awful lot of hard work." Rock star Kinky Friedman saw this sign in a NYC subway: "Make Someone Happy Today — Lose Your Wallet!"

FADED PHRASES: "He rubs me the wrong way," "It's getting late — so shake a leg" and

"Give me a poke of peanuts." Roseland, NYC, has a fiberglass ceiling tent which can be lowered or raised depending on the size of the dance crowd present. (That's raising the roof, right!) "El Grande de Coca Cola" is in its third year at Plaza 9. (If this "pop" show runs long enough it'll be a "grandpop"!)" Big hit at NYC's new Club Cacablanca is Sylvia Syms, who is considered to be "the singers' singer." Avco Embassy's "Kosygin Is Coming" got a title change to "Russian Roulette." (That's a name NOT to fool around with!) Talia Shire, up for a supporting actress Oscar for "Godfather Part II," is director Francis Ford Coppola's sister. (That's keeping it all in the Family!)

HELPFUL HINTS: To get your dog's coat extra soft and shiny, add two tablespoons of baking soda to both the wash and rinse water. Use 10 parts of club soda to one part of liquid rug shampoo to clean your rugs. The fizzing action of the soda does a good job.
